Orders and Notifications by the Government of India.

The following order, issued by the Government of India in the Army Department, published in the Gazette of India dated the 25th September 1915, is republished for general information.

J. H. KERR,
Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Simla, the 24th September 1915.

LONDON GAZETTE.

No. 932.—The following extracts are published for general information:—

Second Supplement, dated the 16th August 1915, to the "London Gazette" of the 13th August 1915, pages 8125 to 8136.

Admiralty, 16th August 1915.

The following despatch has been received from Vice-Admiral John M. de Robeck, reporting the landing of the Army on the Gallipoli Peninsula, 25th-26th April 1915.

"Triad, July 1, 1915.

SIR,—I have the honour to forward herewith an account of the operations carried out on the 25th and 26th April 1915, during which period the Mediterranean Expeditionary Force was landed and firmly established in the Gallipoli peninsula.

The landing commenced at 1-20 A.M. on 25th. The general scheme was as follows:—

Two main landings were to take place, the first at a point just north of Gaba Tepe, the second on the southern end of the peninsula. In addition, a landing was to be made at Kum Kale, and a demonstration in force to be carried out in the Gulf of Xeros near Bulair.

The night of the 24th-25th was calm and very clear, with a brilliant moon, which set at 3 A.M.

The first landing, north of Gaba Tepe, was carried out under the orders of Rear-Admiral C. F. Thursby, C. M. G. His squadron consisted of the following ships:—

Battleships.	Cruiser.	Destroyers.	Seaplane Carrier.	Balloon Ship.	Trawlers.
Queen.	Bacchante.	Beagle.	Ark Royal.	Manica.	15
London.		Bulldog.
Prince of Wales.		Foxhound.
Triumph.		Scourge.
Majestic.		Colne.
		Usk.
		Chelmer.
		Ribble.

To "Queen," "London," and "Prince of Wales," was delegated the duty of actually landing the troops. To "Triumph," "Majestic," and "Bacchante" the duty of covering the landing by gunfire.

In this landing a surprise was attempted. The first troops to be landed were embarked in the battleships "Queen," "London," and "Prince of Wales."

The squadron then approached the land at 2-58 A.M., at a speed of 5 knots. When within a short distance of the beach selected for landing the boats were sent ahead. At 4-20 A.M., the boats reached the beach and a landing was effected.

The remainder of the infantry of the covering force were embarked at 10 P.M., 24th.

The troops were landed in two trips, the operation occupying about half an hour, this in spite of the fact that the landing was vigorously opposed, the surprise being only partially effected.

The disembarkation of the main body was at once proceeded with. The operations were somewhat delayed owing to the transports having to remain a considerale distance from the shore in order to avoid the howitzer and field guns' fire brought to bear on them and also the fire from warships stationed in the Narrows, Chanak.

The beach here was very narrow and continuously under shell fire The difficulties of disembarkation were accentuated by the necessity of evacuating the wounded; both operations proceeded simultaneously. The service was one which called for great determination and coolness under fire, and the success achieved indicates the spirit animating all concerned. In this respect I would specially mention the extraordinary gallantry and dash shown by the 3rd Australian Infantry Brigade (Colonel E. G. Sinclair Maclagan, D.S.O.), who formed the covering force. Many individual acts of devotion to duty were performed by the personnel of the Navy; these are dealt with below. Here I should like to place on record the good service performed by the vessels employed in landing the second part of the covering force; the seamanship displayed and the rapidity with which so large a force was thrown on the beach is deserving of the highest praise.

On the 26th the landing of troops, guns and stores continued throughout the day; this was a most trying service, as the enemy kept up an incessant shrapnel fire, and it was extremely difficult to locate the well-concealed guns of the enemy. Occasional bursts of fire from the ships in the Narrows delayed operations somewhat, but these bursts of fire did not last long, and the fire from our ships always drove the enemy's ships away.

The enemy heavily counter-attacked, and though supported by a very heavy shrapnel fire he could make no impression on our line, which was every minute becoming stronger. By nightfall on the 26th April our position north of Gaba Tepe was secure.

The landing at the southern extremity of the Gallipoli peninsula was carried out under the orders of Rear-Admiral R. E. Wemyss, C.M.G., M.V.O., his squadron consisting of the following ships:—

Battleships.	Cruisers.	Fleet sweepers.	Trawlers.
Swiftsure. Implacable. Cornwallis. Albion. Vengeance. Lord Nelson. Prince George.	Euryalus. Talbot. Minerva. Dublin.	6	14

Landings in this area were to be attempted at five different places; the conditions at each landing varied considerably. The position of beaches is given below.

Position of Beach.—"Y" beach, a point about 7,000 yards north-east of Cape Tekeh.

"X" beach, 1,000 yards north-east of Cape Tekeh. "W" beach, Cape Tekeh—Cape Helles. "V" beach, Cape Helles—Seddul Bahr. Camber, Seddul Bahr. "S" beach, Eski-Hissarlik Point.

Taking these landings in the above order:—

Landing at "Y" Beach.—The troops to be first landed, the King's Own Scottish Borderers, embarked on the 24th in the "Amethyst" and "Sapphire" and proceeded with the transports "Southland" and "Braemar Castle," to a position off Cape Tekeh. At 4-0 A.M., the boats proceeded to "Y" beach timing their arrival there at 5-0 A.M., and pulled ashore covered by fire from H.M.S. "Goliath." The landing was most successfully and expeditiously carried out, the troops gaining the top of the high cliffs overlooking this beach without being opposed; this result I consider due to the rapidity with which the disembarkation was carried out and the well placed covering fire from ships.

The Scottish Borderers were landed in two trips, followed at once by the Plymouth Battalion, Royal Marines. These troops met with severe opposition on the top of the cliffs, where fire from covering ships was of little assistance and, after heavy fighting, were forced to re-embark on the 26th. The re-embarkation was carried out by the following ships: "Goliath," "Talbot," "Dublin," "Sapphire," and "Amethyst." It was most ably conducted by the beach personnel and covered by the fire of the warships, who prevented the enemy reaching the edge of the cliff, except for a few snipers.

Landing at "X" Beach.—The 2nd Battalion, Royal Fusiliers (two companies and M. G. Section) embarked in "Implacable" on 24th, which ship proceeded to a position off the landing-place, where the disembarkation of the troops commenced at 4-30 A.M. and was completed at 5-15 A.M.

A heavy fire was opened on the cliffs on both sides. The "Implacable" approached the beach, and the troops were ordered to land, fire being continued until the boats were close into the beach. The troops on board the "Implacable" were all landed by 7 A.M. without any casualties. The nature of the beach was very favourable for the covering fire from ships, but the manner in which this landing was carried out might well serve as a model.

Landing at "W" Beach.—The 1st Battalion, Lancashire Fusiliers, embarked in "Euryalus" and "Implacable" on the 24th who proceeded to positions off the landing-place, where the troops embarked in the boats at about 4 A.M. Shortly after 5 A.M "Euryalus" approached "W" beach and "Implacable" "X" beach. At 5 A.M. the covering ships opened a heavy fire on the beach, which was continued up to the last moment before landing. Unfortunately this fire did not have the effect on the extensive wire entanglements and trenches that had been hoped for, and the troops, on landing at 6 A.M., were met with a very heavy fire from rifles, machine guns, and pom-poms, and found the obstructions on the beach undamaged. The formation of this beach lends itself admirably to the defence, the landing-place being commanded by sloping cliffs offering ideal positions for trenches and giving a perfect field on fire. The only weakness in the enemy's position was on the flanks, where it was just possible to land on the rocks and thus enfilade the more important defences. This landing on the rocks was effected with great skill, and some maxims, cleverly concealed in the cliffs and which completely enfiladed the main beach, were rushed with the bayonet. This assisted to a great extent in the success of the landing, the troops, though losing very heavily, were not to be denied and the beach and the approaches to it were soon in our possession.

The importance of this success cannot be over-estimated; "W" and "V" beaches were the only two of any size in this area, on which troops, other than infantry, could be disembarked, and failure to capture this one might have had serious consequences as the landing at "V" was held up. The beach was being continuously sniped, and a fierce infantry battle was carried on round it throughout the entire day and the following night. It is impossible to exalt too highly the service rendered by the 1st Battalion, Lancashire Fusiliers, in the storming of the beach; the dash and gallantry displayed were superb. Not one whit behind in devotion to duty was the work of the beach personnel, who worked untiringly throughout the day and night, landing troops and stores under continual sniping. The losses due to rifle and machine-gun fire sustained by the boats' crews, to which they had not the satisfaction of being able to reply, bear testimony to the arduous nature of the service.

During the night of the 25th-26th enemy attacked continuously, and it was not till 1 P.M. on the 26th, when "V" beach was captured, that our position might be said to be secure.

The work of landing troops, guns, and stores continued throughout this period and the conduct of all concerned left nothing to be desired.

Landing at "V" Beach.—This beach, it was anticipated would be the most difficult to capture; it possessed all the advantages for defence which "W" beach had, and in addition the flanks were strongly guarded by the old castle and village of Seddul Bahr on the east and perpendicular cliffs on the west; the whole foreshore was covered with barbed wire entanglements which extended in places under the sea. The position formed a natural amphitheatre with the beach as stage.

The first landing here, as at all other places, was made in boats, but the experiment was tried of landing the remainder of the covering force by means of a collier, the "River Clyde." This steamer had been specially prepared for the occasion under the directions of Commander Edward Unwin; large ports had been cut in her sides and gangways built whereby the troops could reach the lighters which were to form a bridge on to the beach.

"V" beach was subjected to a heavy bombardment similarly to "W" beach, with the same result, i.e., when the first trip attempted to land they were met with a murderous fire from rifle, pom-pom and machine gun, which was not opened till the boats had cast off from the steamboats.

A landing on the flanks here was impossible and practically all the first trip were either killed or wounded, few managing to find some slight shelter under a bank on the beach; in several boats all were either killed or wounded; one boat entirely disappeared, and in another there were only two survivors. Immediately after the boats had reached the beach the "River Clyde" was run ashore under a heavy fire rather towards the eastern end of the beach, where she could form a convenient breakwater during future landing of stores, etc.

As the "River Clyde" grounded, the lighters which were to form the bridge to the shore were run out ahead of the collier, but unfortunately they failed to reach their proper stations and a gap was left between two lighters over which it was impossible for men to cross; some attempted to land by jumping from the lighter which was in position into the sea and wading ashore; this method proved too costly, the lighter being soon heaped with dead and the disembarkation was ordered to cease.

The troops in the "River Clyde" were protected from rifle and machine gunfire and were in comparative safety.

Commander Unwin, seeing how things were going, left the "River Clyde" and, standing up to his waist in water under a very heavy fire, got the lighters into position; he was assisted in this work by Midshipman G. L. Drewry, R.N.R., of H.M.S "Hussar"; Midshipman W. St. A. Malleson, R.N., of H.M.S. "Cornwallis"; Able Seaman W. C. Williams, O.N. 186771

(R.F.R.B. 3766), and Seaman R.N.R. George McKenzie Samson, O.N. 2408A, both of H.M.S. "Hussar."

The brigade to the shore, though now passable, could not be used by the troops, anyone appearing on it being instantly shot down, and the men in "River Clyde" remained in her till nightfall.

At 9-50 A.M., "Albion" sent in launch and pinnace manned by volunteer crews to assist in completing bridge, which did not quite reach breach; these boats, however, could not be got into position until dark owing to heavy fire.

It had already been decided not to continue to disembark on "V" Beach, and all other troops intended for this beach were diverted to "W."

The position remained unchanged on "V" beach throughout the day, men-of-war and the maxims mounted in "River Clyde" doing their utmost to keep down the fire directed on the men under partial shelter on the beach.

During this period many heroic deeds were performed in rescuing wounded men in the water.

During the night of 25th-26th the troops in "River Clyde" were able to disembark under cover of darkness and obtain some shelter on the beach and in the village of Seddul Bahr, for possession of which now commenced a most stubborn fight.

The fight continued, supported ably by gunfire from H.M.S. "Albion," until 1-24 P.M., when our troops had gained a position from which they assaulted hill 141, which dominated the situation. "Albion" then ceased fire, and the hill, with old fort on top, was most gallantly stormed by the troops, led by Lieutenant-Colonel C. H. H. Doughty-Wylie, General Staff, who fell as the position was won. The taking of this hill effectively cleared the enemy from the neighbourhood of the "V" Beach, which could now be used for the disembarkation of the allied armies. The capture of this beach called for a display of the utmost gallantry and perseverance from the officers and men of both services—that they successfully accomplished their task bordered on the miraculous.

Landing on the Camber, Seddul Bahr.—One half company, Royal Dublin Fusiliers, landed here without opposition, the Camber being "dead ground" The advance from the Camber, however, was only possible on a narrow front, and after several attempts to enter the village of Seddul Bahr this half company had to withdraw after suffering heavy losses.

Landing at "De Totts" "S" Beach.—The 2nd South Wales Borderers (less one company) and a detachment 2nd London Field Company, R.E., were landed in boats, convoyed by "Cornwallis," and covered by that ship and "Lord Nelson."

Little opposition was encountered, and the hill was soon in the possession of the South Wales Borderers. The enemy attacked this position on the evening of the 25th and during the 26th, but our troops were firmly established, and with the assistance of the covering ships all attacks were easily beaten off.

Landing at Kum Kale.—The landing here was undertaken by the French.

It was most important to prevent the enemy occupying positions in this neighbourhood, whence he could bring gun fire to bear on the transports off Cape Helles. It was also hoped that by holding this position it would be possible to deal effectively with the enemy's guns on the Asiatic shore immediately east of Kum Kale, which could fire into Seddul Bahr and De Totts.

The French, after a heavy preliminary bombardment, commenced to land at about 10 A.M., and by the afternoon the whole of their force had been landed at Kum Kale. When they attempted to advance to Yeni Shehr, their immediate objective, they were met by heavy fire from well-concealed trenches, and were held up just south of Kum Kale village.

During the night of the 25th-26th the enemy made several counter-attacks, all of which were easily driven of; during one of these 400 Turks were captured, their retreat being cut off by the fire from the battleships.

On the 26th, when it became apparent that no advance was possible without entailing severe losses and the landing of large reinforcements, the order was given for the French to withdraw and re-embark, which operation was carried out without serious opposition.

I now propose to make the following more general remarks on the conduct of the operations :—

From the very first the co-operation between army and navy was most happy ; difficulties which arose were quickly surmounted, and nothing could have succeeded the tactfulness and forethought of Sir Ian Hamilton and his staff.

The loyal support which I received from Contre-Amiral E. P. A. Guepratte simplified the task of landing the Allied armies simultaneously.

The Russian fleet was represented by H.I.R.M.S "Askold,' which ship was attached to the French squadron. Contre-Amiral Guepratte bears testimony to the value of the support he received from Captain Ivanoff, especially during the landing and re-embarkation of the French troops at Kum Kale.

The detailed organisation of the landing could not be commenced until the Army Headquarters returned from Egypt on the 10th April. The work to be done was very great, and the naval personnel and material available small.

Immediately on the arrival of the Army Staff at Mudos, committees composed of officers of both services commenced to work out the details of the landing operations, and it was due to these officers' indefatigable efforts that the expedition was ready to land on the 22nd April. The keenness displayed by the officers and men resulted in a good standard of efficiency, especially in the case of the Australian and New Zealand Corps, who appear to be natural boatmen.

Such actions as the storming of the Seddul Bahr position by the 29th Division must live in history for ever; innumerable deeds of heroism and daring were performed; the gallantry and absolute contempt for death displayed alone made the operations possible.

At Gaba Tepe the landing and the dash of the Australian Brigade for the cliffs was magnificent— nothing could stop such men. The Australian and New Zealand Army Corps in this, their first battle, set a standard as high as that of any army in history, and one of which their countrymen have every reason to be proud.

In closing this despatch I beg to bring to their Lordships' notice the names of certain officers and men who have performed meritorious service. The great traditions of His Majesty's Navy were well maintained, and the list of names submitted of necessity lacks those of many officers and men who performed gallant deeds unobserved and therefore unnoted. This standard was high, and if I specially mention one particular action it is that of Commander Unwin and the two young officers and two seamen who assisted him in the work of establishing communication between "River Clyde" and the beach. Rear-Admirals R. E. Wemyss, C.M.G., M.V.O., C. F. Thursby, C.M.G., and Stuart Nicholson, M.V.O., have rendered invaluable service. Throughout they have been indefatigable in their efforts to further the success of the operations and their loyal support has much lightened my duties and responsibilities.

I have at all times received the most loyal support from the Commanding Officers of His Majesty's ships during an operation which called for the display of great initiative and seamanship.

Captain R. F. Phillimore, C.B., M.V.O., A.D.C., as principal Beach Master, and Captain D. L. Dent, as principal Naval Transport Officer, performed most valuable service.

SPECIAL RECOMMENDATIONS.

Commander Edward Unwin, R. N.

While in "River Clyde," observing that the lighters which were to form the bridge to the shore had broken adrift, Commander Unwin left the ship and under a murderous fire attempted to get the lighters into position. He worked on until, suffering from the effects of cold and immersion, he was obliged to return to the ship, where he was wrapped up in blankets. Having in some degree recovered, he returned to his work against the doctor's order and completed it. He was later again attended by the doctor for three abrasions caused by bullets, after which he once more left the ship, this time in a lifeboat, to save some wounded men who were lying in shallow water near the beach. He continued at this heroic labour under continuous fire until forced to stop through pure physical exhaustion.

Midshipman George L. Drewry, R. N. R.

Assisted Commander Unwin at the work of securing the lighters under heavy rifle and maxim fire. He was wounded in the head, but continued his work and twice subsequently attempted to swim from lighter to lighter with a line.

Midshipman Wilfred St. A. Malleson, R. N.

Also assisted Commander Unwin, and after Midshipman Drewry had failed from exhaustion to get a line from lighter to lighter, he swam with it himself and succeeded. The line subsequently broke, and he afterwards made two further but unsuccessful attempts at his self-imposed task.

Able Seaman William Chas. Williams, O. N. 186774 (R. F. R. B. 3766).

Held on to a line in the water for over an hour under heavy fire, until killed.

Seaman R. N. R. George McKenzie Samson, O. N. 2408A.

Worked on a lighter all day under fire, attending wounded and getting out lines; he was eventually dangerously wounded by maxim fire.

Lieutenant Commander Ralph B. Janvrin, R. N.

Conducted the trawlers into Morto Bay, for the landing at "De Totts," with much skill.

This officer showed great judgment and coolness under fire, and carried out a difficult task with great success.

Lieutenant John A. V. Morse, R. N.

Assisted to secure the lighters at the bows of the "River Clyde" under a heavy fire, and was very active throughout the 25th and 26th at "V" beach.

Surgeon P. B. Kelly, R. N., attached to R. N. A. S.

Was wounded in the foot on the morning of the 25th in "River Clyde." He remained in "River Clyde" until morning of the 27th, during which time he attended 750 wounded men, although in great pain and unable to walk during the last twenty-four hours.

Lieutenant-Commander Adrian St. V. Keyes, R. N.

General Sir Ian Hamilton reports as follows:—

"Lieutenant-Commander Keyes showed great coolness, gallantry, and ability. The success of the landing on "Y" beach was largely due to his good services. When circumstances compelled the force landed there to re-embark, this officer showed exceptional resource and leadership in successfully conducting that difficult operation."

I entirely concur in General Hamilton's opinion of this officer's services on the 25th-26th April.

Commander William H. Cottrell, R. N. V. R.

This officer has organised the entire system of land communication; has laid and repaired cables several times under fire; and on all occasions shown zeal, tact, and coolness beyond praise.

The work accomplished by the destroyer flotillas fully maintained the high standard they have established in these water.

On the 25th and 26 "Wolverine" (Commander O. J. Prentis) (killed in action), "Scorpion" (Lieutenant-Commander, now Commander, A. B. Cunningham), "Renard" (Lieutenant-Commander L. G. B. A. Campbell), "Grampus" (Lieutenant-Commander R. Bacchus), "Pincher" (Lieutenant-Commander H. W. Wyld), and "Rattlesnake" (Lieutenant-Commander P. G. Wodehouse) carried out mine-sweeping operations under Captain Heneag inside the Dardanelles in a most satisfactory manner, being frequently under heavy fire. On the 26th the French sweepers "Henriette" (Lieutenant de Vaisseau Auverny), "Marius Chambon" (Lieutenant de Vaisseau Blaic), and "Camargue" (Lieutenant de Vaisseau Bergeon) assisted them, "Henriette" doing particularly well.

"Beagle" Commander (now Captain H. R. Godfrey), "Bulldog" (Lieutenant-Commander W. B. Mackenzie), "Scourge" (Lieutenant-Commander H. de B. Tupper), "Foxhound" (Commander W. G. Howard), "Colne"

Rear-Admiral Thursby reports as follows on the war accomplished by these boats :—

"The destroyers under Captain C. P. R. Coode (Captain 'D') landed the second part of the covering force with great gallantry and expedition, and it is in my opinion entirely due to the rapidity with which so large a force was thrown on the beach that we were able to establish ourselves there."

I entirely concur in Admiral Thursby's remarks on the good work performed by this division.

Able Seaman Lewis Jacobs, O. N. J.4081, H.M.S. "Lord Nelson." Took his boat into "V" beach unaided, after all the remainder of the crew and the troops were killed or wounded. When last seen Jacobs was standing up and endeavouring to pole the cutter to the shore. While thus employed he was killed.

No officer could have been better served by his staff than I have been during these operations. The energy and resource of my Chief of Staff, Commodore R. J. B. Keyes, was invaluable, and, in combination with Major-General Braithwaite—Chief of the General Staff—he established a most excellent working agreement between the two services.

Captain George P. W. Hope, of "Queen Elizabeth," acted as my flag captain. His gift of organisation was of the greatest assistance in dealing with the mass of details inseparable from an operation of such magnitude.

Commander the Hon. A. R. M. Ramsay has used his sound practical knowledge of gunnery to great advantage in working out, in connection with the military, the details of gun-fire from the covering ships.

Captain William W. Godfrey, R.M., a staff officer of great ability, has given me invaluable assistance throughout the operations.

I would also mention my secretary, Mr. Basil F. Hood, Acting Paymaster, and secretarial staff, whose good services under the direction and example of Mr. Edward W. Whittington-Ince, Assistant Paymaster, will form the subject of a later separate report. Also Lieutenant-Commander James F. Sommerville (Fleet Wireless Telegraph Officer, and Flag Lieutenants L. S. Ormsby-Johnson, Hugh S Bowlby, and Richard H. L. Bevan, who have performed good service in organising with the military the intercommunication between the allied fleets and armies.

I have, &c.,

Admiralty, 16th August 1915.

The following awards have been made in recognition of services during the operations in the vicinity of the Dardanelles prior to 25th-26th April :—

The KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the grant of the Victoria Cross to Lieutenant-Commander (now Commander) Eric Gascoigne Robinson. R.N., for the conspicuous act of bravery specified below.

Lieutenant-Commander Robinson on the 26th February advanced alone, under heavy fire, into an enemy's gun position, which might well have been occupied, and destroying a four-inch gun, returned to his party for another charge with which the second gun was destroyed. Lieutenant-Commander Robinson would not allow members of his demolition party to accompany him, as their white uniforms rendered them very conspicuous. Lieutenant-Commander Robinson took part in four attacks on the mine fields—always under heavy fire.

The KING has been graciously pleased to give orders for the following appointment to the Distinguished Service Order and for the award of the Distinguished Service Cross to the undermentioned Officers in recognition of their services as mentioned :

To be Companions of the Distinguished Service Order.

Commander William Mellor, R. N.

Commander Mellor was in charge of the trawler mine-sweepers, and took part in all the mine-sweeping operations under fire prior to and including the 18th March; he displayed conspicuous gallantry, always being to the fore in a picket boat in the most exposed positions, encouraging his sweepers and setting a fine example.

Lieutenant-Commander (now Commander) John Richards Middleton, R. N.

Lieutenant-Commander Middleton on three occasions entered the minefields under heavy fire, where he organized and successfully carried out attacks—by means of explosive creeps—on the cables and jack stays.

Lieutenant Francis Hugh Sandford, R.N.

Lieutenant Sandford was specially recommended for his good work in connection with the attacks on the minefields, which he entered on several occasions, including night of 13th-14th March. He invariably displayed great determination when under fire. Lieutenant Sandford also rendered good service in the demolition of Fort Seddul Bahr.

Acting Lieutenant Bernard Thomas Cox, R.N.R.

Lieutenant Cox behaved in a most gallant manner when a volunteer in trawler No. 318 during the attack on the minefield on 13th-14th March. Though severely wounded he refused to quit his bridge until out of action. His vessel suffered serious damage and severe casualties.

Captain Christopher Powell Metcalf, R.N.

On the 18th March, after H.M.S. "Irresistible" struck a mine, Captain Metcalfe took H.M.S "Wear" alongside her, and rescued nearly the whole of her crew under a very heavy fire, which caused several casualties—a very fine display of seamanship.

Lieutenant-Commander (now Commander) the Hon'ble Patrick George Edward Cavendish Acheson, M.V.O., R.N.

Acting Sub-Lieutenant (now Sub-Lieutenant) Alfred Edward Boscawen Giles, R.N.

Lieutenant-Commander Acheson, with Acting Sub-Lieutenant Alfred E. B. Giles, Chief E. R. A. 2nd Class Robert Snowdon, O.N. 270654, and Stoker 1st Class Thomas Davidson, O. N. K. 14753, went down into the fore magazine and shell room of H.M.S. "Inflexible" when the parties working in these places had been driven out by fumes, caused by the explosion of a mine under the ship; they closed valves and water-tight doors, lights being out, and the shell room having two feet of water in it, rising quickly, and the magazine flooding slowly.

The fumes were beginning to take effect on acting Sub-Lieutenant Giles but neither he nor the others left until ordered to do so by Lieutenant-Commander Acheson who was the last to leave the shell room.

Engineer-Commander Harry Lashmore, C.B., R.N.

Engineer-Lieutenant-Commander Arthur Ellis Lester, R.N.

Engineer-Lieutenant Rey Griffith Parry, R.N.

Surgeon Martyn Henry Langford, R.N.

During the time H.M.S. "Inflexible" was steaming to Tenedos—after having struck a mine—the engine-room being in semi-darkness and great heat, the ship in possible danger of sinking on passage, a high standard of discipline was called for in the Engineer Department, a call which was more than met. Engineer-Commander Harry Lashmore, responsible for the discipline of the engine-room department, was in the starboard engine-room throughout the passage and set a fine example to his men.

Engineer-Lieutenant-Commander Lester was in the port engine-room carrying out the same duties as Engineer-Commander Lashmore did in the starboard engine-room.

Engineer-Lieutenant Parry went twice through the thick fumes to the refrigerator flat to see if the doors and valves were closed; he also closed the escape hatch from the submerged flat, fumes and vapour coming up the trunk at the time.

Surgeon Langford brought up the wounded from the fore distributing station in the dark. Fumes permeated the place, rendering five men unconscious. Surgeon Langford, though partially overcome by the fumes, continued his work.

Lieutenant Claud Herbert Godwin, R. N.

Lieutenant Godwin commanded H.M.S. "Majestic's" picket boat, and was responsible for the successful shot by which the submarine E. 15 was destroyed after running aground.

To receive the Distinguished Service Cross.

Sub-Lieutenant (now Acting Lieutenant) Stephen Augustus Bayford, R.N.R., H.M.S. "Majestic."
Midshipman James Charles Woolmer Price, H.M.S. "Ocean."

These officers were both in command of picket boats on night of 13th-14th March.
When "Ocean's" boat lay helpless, having been struck in the boiler-room by a shell, "Majestic's" took her in tow, under heavy fire, the conduct of these two young officers being altogether admirable, as was their handling of their boats.

Gunner (T) John William Alexander Chubb, R. N.

Mr. Chubb, when a volunteer in trawler No. 488, on the night of 13th-14th March, brought his vessel out of action in a sinking condition, his commanding officer and three of the small crew being killed.

Gunner (T) William Walter Thorrowgood, R. N.

Mr. Thorrowgood was in command of an armed whaler, which, on the night of 4th-5th March, twice went into the shore between Kum Kale and Yeni Shehr, bringing off two officers and five men, two of them wounded, exposed to rifle fire on both occasions.

Midshipman Hugh Dixon, R. N.

Midshipman Dixon was in command of "Queen Elizabeth's" picket boat, and was responsible for saving several officers and men from "Irresistible" while under heavy fire, on the 18th March.

Acting Sub-Lieutenant (now Sub-Lieutenant) George Tothill Philip, R.N.

Acting Sub-Lieutenant Philip, H. M. S. "Inflexible," was in charge of his picket-boat on the 18th March to deal with floating mines.
The picket-boat was struck by a heavy shell. Acting Sub-Lieutenant Philip got her alongside "Inflexible," ordered his crew inboard, and, though his knee was injured, got into the engine-room, shut off steam and closed scuttle to stokehold before leaving his boat.

Lieutenant Arthur Cyril Brooke-Webb, R.N.R.
Midshipman John Blaxland Woolley, R.N.

These officers took part in the picket-boat attack on the 18th April.

Lieutenant Colin George MacArthur, R.N.

Lieutenant MacArthur (commanding submarine B. 6) carried out two most enterprising reconnaissances of E. 15, both under fire. During the latter reconnaissance his skilful handling saved his ship.

The following Officers are Commended for service in action :—

Between 19th February and 24th April.

Explanation.—The expression "running expenses" in this proviso, includes all outlay incurred in connection with the use of the vessels other than any charges for their hire or for the wages of the officers and crews of such vessels :

Provided, secondly, that any officer making a requisition under this section shall exercise his powers in such a way as to cause as little disturbance to the ordinary business of the port as is compatible with the exigencies of the efficient carrying out of the manœuvres :

Provided, thirdly, that no suit or other legal proceeding shall lie against any authority for any default occurring by reason only of compliance with a requisition under this section."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

SECTION 34 of the Indian Ports Act, 1908 (XV of 1908), gives power to exempt vessels entering a port from the payment of port-dues. In January 1911, the Government of Madras brought to the notice of the Government of India that this section permitted only of the exemption of all vessels and not of any particular class of vessels entering a port, and represented the advisability of amending the Act so as to exempt fishing vessels from the payment of port-dues. The Government of India agreed with the Local Government that every facility should be afforded to the development of this rising industry. Before taking up legislation, however, they consulted the other maritime Local Governments on the proposal, and invited suggestions, with regard to any other difficulties arising in the administration of the Act. The Local Governments, in reply, submitted a number of proposals for amending the law ; and the Government of India have accorded these their careful consideration. They have also taken the opportunity to consider whether any of the powers under the Act now exercised by Local Governments, subject to the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, could not with advantage, be surrendered absolutely to Local Governments, and whether the law does not call for amendment in other respects ; and they have decided to amend the Act in the directions indicated in the draft Bill. The precise amendments proposed are explained in the Notes on Clauses.

The 6th September, 1915. W. H. CLARK.

Notes on Clauses.

Clauses 2 and 3.—It has been decided, in connection with the recommendations of the Royal Commission on Decentralization, that the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, for which provision is made under section 4 (1) in respect of extensions and withdrawals of the Act, or of certain sections thereof, and under section 5 (1) in respect of alterations to the limits of ports, should be dispensed with, and it is proposed to legislate accordingly.

Clause 4.—It has been represented that there is at present no statutory provision in the Act enabling Local Governments to frame rules for the control and working of Government jetties, etc. Similarly, the Local Governments possess no power to punish refractory boatmen, to revoke the licenses granted to boatmen, to levy fees, to fix the rates of hire, to compel licensed vessels to ply for hire, or to fix the number of crews to be carried by such vessels. As the absence of these powers causes much practical difficulty and inconvenience to local authorities in their control of an important section of port traffic, it is proposed to empower Local Governments in these respects in the manner indicated in this clause.

Clause 5.—The adherence of India to the International Maritime Convention for the unification of rules of law relating to collisions and salvage renders it necessary to legislate so as to give effect to the Article abolishing the defence of compulsory pilotage. Similar legislation was found necessary in the United Kingdom, and is embodied in section 15 of the Pilotage Act, 1913, on which the provisions of clause 5 of the Bill are based.

Clauses 6 and 7.—Under section 33 (1) of the Indian Ports Act, 1908, Local Governments have power to levy port-dues, and under section 34, they are empowered to exempt vessels entering a port from the payment of port-dues, and also to vary the rates at which port-dues are to be levied. But these powers are limited in the case of existing ports by the maximum fixed by the First Schedule of the Act, and are further restricted by the fact that, apart from the exemptions specially provided in the Schedule, no power is given to Local Governments to discriminate between particular vessels or classes of vessels either with respect to the exemption from payment of the due, or with regard to the nature or frequency of its incidence They have also no power to disturb the grouping of ports laid down in the Schedule, although alterations may, from time to time, be desirable for administrative reasons. It is considered that these restrictions may suitably be relaxed in the interests of administrative convenience ; and it is proposed accordingly to amend sections 33 and 34 of the Act in the manner indicated in clauses 6 and 7 of the Bill.

Clause 8.—Under section 35 of the Act, Local Governments have full power to prescribe the rates for fees chargeable on account of special services rendered, subject to the proviso that the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council is required in determining the fees to be charged for pilotage. In accordance with the general principle of decentralisation already recognised in clauses 2 and 3 supra, it is considered unnecessary to retain the proviso to this section.

Clause 9.—In view of the provisions of section 4 (xi) of the Local Authorities Loans Act, 1914 (IX of 1914), the provisions of section 36, sub-section (3), of the Indian Ports Act, 1908, have become unnecessary; and it is therefore proposed to repeal the sub-section.

Clause 10.—Section 37 (2) (a) of the Indian Ports Act, 1908, permits of Local Governments grouping together certain ports for the purposes of accounts, subject to the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council. Although the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council is considered unnecessary, the Government of India are of opinion that it is desirable that their general control should be maintained. It is proposed to amend the section accordingly.

Clause 11.—The military authorities carry out periodical practices of the examination services which will be instituted at ports in time of war, in order to ensure a thorough knowledge of their working. It is considered important that the port authorities should be required to provide vessels and personnel for these practices during peace, and it is accordingly proposed to impose this requirement on them by law. The new section 68-A is intended to provide for this and, at the same time, to ensure that the necessary requisitions for the loan of the vessels on Port Trusts are made with a due regard to the convenience of the Trusts concerned.

Secretary to the Government of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 22nd September 1915 :—

No. 15 OF 1915

Bill to prevent the grant to unqualified persons of titles implying qualifications in western medical science, and the assumption and use by such persons of such titles.

WHEREAS it is expedient to prevent the grant to unqualified persons of titles implying qualifications in western medical science, and the assumption and use by such persons of such titles; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Indian Medical (Bogus Degrees) Act, 1915

Definition.

2. In this Act "western medical science" means the western methods of allopathic medicine, obstetrics and surgery, but does not include the Homœopathic or Ayurvedic or Unani systems of medicine.

Exclusive privilege of granting qualifications in western medicine, etc.

3. The right of granting or issuing in British India degrees, diplomas, licenses and other documents stating or implying that the grantee or the recipient thereof is qualified to practise in western medical science, shall be exercisable only by the authorities specified in the Schedule and by any other authority which the Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, and subject to such conditions and restrictions as he thinks fit, authorize in this behalf.

Prohibition of unauthorised issue of degrees, etc., in western medicine or surgery.

4. Save as provided by section 3, no person in British India shall grant, or issue or hold himself out as entitled to grant, or issue any degree, diploma, license, or other document stating or implying that the grantee or the recipient is qualified to practise in western medical science.

Contravention of section 4.

5. Whoever contravenes the provisions of section 4 shall be liable to fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, and if the person so contravening is an association, every member of such association, who knowingly and wilfully authorises or permits the contravention, shall be liable to the like fine.

Penalty for falsely assuming titles

6. Whoever voluntarily and falsely—

(a) pretends to be, or assumes, or uses the name or title of any person holding any qualification in western medical science, granted by any authority referred to in section 3, or by the General Council of Medical Education of the United Kingdom; or

(b) assumes or uses any colourable imitation of any such title or any name, addition or description implying that he possesses any such qualification; shall be liable to fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

SCHEDULE.

(See section 3.)

1. Every University established by an Act of the Governor General in Council.

2. The State Medical Faculty in Bengal.

3. The College of Physicians and Surgeons of Bombay.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

ACTS of the Local Councils provide in many of the larger provinces of British India for the registration of persons duly qualified to practise western medicine or surgery, and where such Acts have been passed, Medical Councils have been constituted with specific powers and duties.

2. It is now considered necessary to supplement this provincial legislation by an Imperial Act, restricting the right to issue degrees and diplomas in these systems of medicine and surgery to duly constituted authorities, so as to ensure that such degrees and diplomas are not issued to unqualified persons. It has been found that, at present, diplomas are issued by private institutions to untrained or insufficiently trained persons, and that many of these diplomas are colourable imitations of those issued by recognised Universities and Corporations. The result is that recipients of such diplomas are able to pose to the public as possessing qualifications in medicine and surgery which they do not possess. The present Bill is intended to remove the public inconvenience and injury arising out of the present state of affairs. It prohibits all persons, save certain specified authorities, from issuing or alleging that they are entitled to issue any degree or diploma in western medicine or surgery. It also penalises persons who voluntarily and falsely assume any medical title which is granted either by the General Council of Medical Education of the United Kingdom, or by the authorities constituted under the Act, and further prohibits the use of any colourable imitations of such titles.

3. The Bill does not affect the right of any person to exercise the profession of medicine or to practise as a Physician or Surgeon, provided he does not pretend to qualifications which he has not got; and its operation is rigidly restricted to the western methods of Allopathic medicine and surgery, Homœopathic, Ayurvedic and Unani practitioners being excluded from the purview of the Bill.

APPENDIX.

NOTICES TO MARINERS.

THE following Notices are published for general information.

F. A. A. COWLEY,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

CALCUTTA, the 28th September 1915.

BRITISH POSSESSIONS.

Caution when approaching British Ports.

No. 250 (first publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 700 of 1915), are republished :—

PART I.

CLOSING OF PORTS.

Former Notice.—No. 274 of 1915; (This Office No. 115 of 1915) hereby cancelled.

(1) My Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, having taken into consideration the fact that it may be necessary to forbid all entrance to certain ports of the Empire, this is to give Notice that on approaching the shores of the United Kingdom, or any of the ports or localities of the British Empire, referred to in Part III of this Notice, a sharp look-out should be kept for the signals described in the following paragraph, and for the vessels mentioned in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice, and the distinguishing and other signals made by them. In the event of such signals being displayed, the port or locality should be approached with great caution, as it may be apprehended that obstructions may exist.

(2) If entrance to a port is prohibited, three red vertical lights by night, or three red vertical balls by day, will be exhibited in some conspicuous position, in or near to its approach, which signals will also be shown by the vessels indicated in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice.

If these signals are displayed, vessels must either proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty charts and anchor there, or keep the sea.

(3) At all the ports or localities at home or abroad referred to in Part III of this Notice, search-lights are occasionally exhibited for exercise.

Instructions have been given to avoid directing moveable search-lights during practice on to vessels under way, but mariners are warned that great care should be taken to keep a sharp look-out for the signals indicated in paragraph (2) above, when search-lights are observed to be working.

PART II.

EXAMINATION SERVICE.

(4) In certain circumstances it is also necessary to take special measures to examine vessels desiring to enter the ports or localities at home or abroad, referred to in Part III, of this Notice.

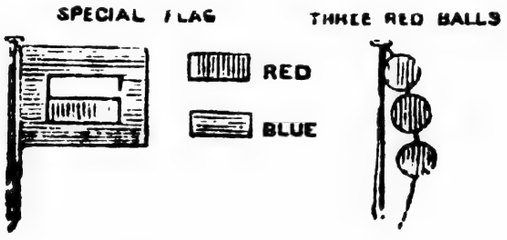
(5) In such case, vessels carrying the distinguishing flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7) will be charged with the duty of examining ships which desire to enter the ports and of allotting positions in which they shall anchor. If Government vessels, or vessels belonging to the local port authority, are found patrolling in the offing, merchant vessels are advised to communicate with such vessels with a view to obtaining information as to the course on which they should approach the Examination Anchorage. Such communication will not be necessary in cases where the pilot on board has already received this information from the local authorities.

(6) As the institution of the Examination Service at any port will never be publicly advertised, especial care should be taken in approaching the ports, by day or night, to keep a sharp look-out for any vessel carrying the flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7), and to be ready to "bring to" at once when hailed by her or warned by the firing of a gun or sound rocket.

In entering by night any of the ports mentioned in Part III, serious delay and risk will be avoided if four efficient all round lamps, two red and two white, are kept available for use.

(7) By day the distinguishing flags of the Examination Steamer will be a special flag (white and red horizontal surrounded by a blue border) and a blue ensign.

Also, three red vertical balls if the port is closed.



By night the steamer will carry :—

(a) Three red vertical lights if the port is closed.
(b) Three white vertical lights if the port is open.

The above lights will be carried in addition to the ordinary navigation lights, and will show an unbroken light around the horizon.

(8) Masters are warned that, when approaching a British port where the Examination Service is in force, they must have the distinguishing signal of their vessel ready to hoist immediately the Examination Steamer makes the signal.

(9) Masters are warned that, before attempting to enter any of these ports when the Examination Service is in force, they must in their own interests strictly obey all instructions given to them by the Examination Steamer. In the absence of any instructions from the Examination Steamer they must proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty charts and anchor there, or keep the sea.

Whilst at anchor in the Examination Anchorage, Masters are warned that they must not lower any boats (except to avoid accident), communicate with the shore, work cables, move the ship, or allow any one to leave the ship, without permission from the Examination Steamer.

(10) In case of fog, Masters are enjoined to use the utmost care, and the Examination Anchorage itself should be approached with caution.

(11) Merchant vessels when approaching ports are especially cautioned against making use of private signals of any description, either by day or night: the use of them will render a vessel liable to be fired on.

(12) The pilots attached to the ports will be acquainted with the regulations to be followed.

SWEEPING OPERATIONS.

H. M. Vessels are constantly engaged in sweeping operations off ports in the United Kingdom.

Whilst so engaged, they work in pairs connected by a wire hawser, and are consequently hampered to a very considerable extent in their manœuvring powers.

With a view to indicating the nature of the work on which these vessels are engaged, they will show the following signals :—

A black ball at the foremast head and a similar ball at the yardarm, or where it can best be seen, on that side on which it is dangerous for vessels to pass.

For the public safety, all other vessels, whether steamers or sailing craft, must keep out of the way of vessels flying this signal, and should especially remember that it is dangerous to pass between the vessels of a pair.

Note.

This Notice is a repetition of Notice No. 274 of 1915 (This office No. 115 of 1915) with the addition of Sunderland to the List of Ports mentioned in Part III.

REPORT OF THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE EXCISE DEPARTMENT IN BENGAL DURING THE YEAR 1914-15.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 223T.S.R.—The 29th September 1915.—The following extracts from the Report of the Commissioner of Excise and Salt, Bengal, on the Administration of the Excise Department in Bengal during 1914-15 are published for general information, together with a memorandum issued by Government on the Report.

J. DONALD,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 3828E., dated Calcutta, the 9th August 1915.

From—A. N. MOBERLY, ESQ., I.C.S., Commissioner of Excise and Salt, Bengal,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Dept.

I HAVE the honour to submit the following report on the administration of the Excise Department in the Presidency of Bengal for the year 1914-15.

6. Excise Advisory Committees.—As in the previous year, Excise Advisory Committees were convened for all municipalities outside the Calcutta district and for all rural areas.

7. Licensing Boards.—The Licensing Board for the Calcutta Municipality held nine meetings in connection with licenses for the year 1915-16 during the period between the 1st December 1914 and the 15th June 1915. The Boards for the Maniktola and Cossipore-Chitpur Municipalities held two meetings each, and those for the Garden Reach, Howrah and Bally Municipalities one each. The Licensing Board for the South Suburban Municipality held no meeting, as there are no shops within that portion of the municipality which lies within the Calcutta district.

* * * measures were taken to separate the vend of country spirit from that of foreign liquor and the vend of foreign liquor for consumption on the premises from that of foreign liquor for consumption off the premises. This involved a considerable redistribution of licenses and the establishment of some new foreign liquor "on" and foreign liquor "off" shops to meet the demand which had previously been met by the subsidiary licenses.

8. Consumption of country spirit, ganja and opium.—The outstanding feature of the year 1914-15 was the very large decrease in the consumption of country spirit and drugs.

Two series of causes existed during the whole or part of the year, which tended to operate in the direction of decrease. The first series comprises various measures taken by Government to check excessive indulgence in intoxicants. The number of country spirit, ganja and opium shops was reduced by 47, 56 and 27, respectively. The opening hours of shops of all classes and the closing hours of all drug shops were curtailed, and, except in municipal areas and a few other places, in which early closing would have prevented an industrial population from obtaining supplies, country spirit shops were also closed at sunset. The rate of duty on country spirit was increased either in the whole or in part of 20 districts. The system of restricted issues to opium shops was introduced into the whole of the districts of Midnapore and Khulna and into certain shops in Nadia, Jessore and Malda. The allowances to opium shops in Bakarganj and Chittagong were reduced. The higher retail prices of ganja and opium, which had followed the enhancement of the rate of duty in the case of the former and the more stringent working of the restrictive system in the case of the latter were kept up by an enhancement of license fees. The second series of causes arose from the European war and poor crops. The former caused a heavy fall in the price of jute, which had far-reaching effects, and created a dearth of employment in the chief industrial centres, whilst both factors combined to raise the prices of the necessaries of life. The margin available for expenditure on luxuries was considerably reduced, and the reduction was proportionately greater among the lower and labouring classes to which the majority of consumers belong.

9. Total revenue and charges * * *.—
The excise revenue and charges of the Presidency for the last five years are shown below :—

Period.	Revenue.	Charges.	Net revenue.	Percentage of charges.

* Revised figures.

* * * * * *

11. Actual receipts.—Deducting the advance collections (Rs. 12,22,037) for 1915-16 and adding the revenue (Rs. 10,82,942) for 1914-15, which was collected in advance in 1913-14, the actual receipts on account of 1914-15 were Rs. 1,52,20,821 against Rs. 1,54,20,020 (after similar adjustment) of the preceding year, showing a decrease of Rs. 1,99,199 or 1·3 per cent.

13. Revenue under different heads * * *.—
The chief increases in receipts occurred under the heads "foreign liquor," "tari," "pachwai" and "opium." Opium gave the largest increase of revenue (Rs. 1,79,252), "foreign liquor," excluding revenue from locally-brewed beer and duty on locally produced denatured spirit, came next with an increase of Rs. 66,009, followed by "pachwai" (Rs. 44,281) and "tari" (Rs. 12,041). The largest decrease (Rs. 3,09,760) occurred under the head of "country spirit." The only other considerable decrease was Rs. 18,320 under "ganja."

14. Demand and Collection * * *.—
Taking the population of the Presidency of Bengal, according to the census of 1911, to be 45,329,247, the incidence of excise revenue was 5 annas 5 pies as in the previous year.

15. Result of settlements for the current year up to 31st May 1915.—
* * * * * * The settlements for the current year show a decrease of Rs. 3,63,631,—Rs. 33,187 under the head of "country spirit," and Rs. 3,30,144 under the head of "other excisable articles." Under "country spirit" there has been an increase of Rs. 3,08,634 in six districts and a decrease of Rs. 3,42,121 in the remaining 21 districts. The increase of Rs. 2,79,384 in Calcutta was due to the keen competition which resulted from a large reduction in the number of shops and the introduction of some new vendors. The amalgamation of shops also tends to reduce expenditure on house-rent and establishment, and thus leaves a larger margin for license-fees. The only other district in which the increase exceeded Rs. 10,000 was Jalpaiguri, where consumption increased during the year under review. The decrease was most marked in the 24-Parganas, Rangpur, Dacca, Rajshahi, Bogra, Howrah, Mymensingh, Tippera, Darjeeling, Midnapore and Hooghly. In all these districts, except Midnapore, consumption decreased by upwards of 2,000 proof gallons. The greater part of the decrease under "other excisable articles" is accounted for by a fall of Rs. 2,77,702 in ganja license-fees, which resulted from a decrease in consumption and the prospect of the enhancement of the rate of duty. The net decrease in opium license-fees has been small, notwithstanding the increase in the Treasury prices, as large decreases in some districts, notably in the 24-Parganas and Hooghly, have been counterbalanced by increases in other districts —notably in Calcutta, where the increase was due to keen competition for a very profitable class of license. Pachwai retail license-fees show an increase of over Rs. 60,000. Tari and foreign liquor show considerable decreases, and, as usual, the fact that the bulk of the pachwai home-brewing licenses are not settled in the first two months of the year causes an apparent decrease in current fees as compared with those realised in the whole of the preceding year.

SECTION II.—Country Liquor.

* * * * * *

Country Spirit.

16. System.—The system of contract supply was the only system in force in this Presidency during the year under report.

17. Country spirit licenses.—The number of licenses for the sale of country spirit was 1,233 against 1.280 in the previous year—a decrease of 47. One shop was abolished in each of the districts of Howrah, Calcutta, Bakarganj, Noakhali, Tippera and Darjeeling, 2 each in Birbhum, the 24-Parganas, Murshidabad, Dacca and Rangpur, 3 each in Bankura and Khulna, 4 each in Burdwan, Midnapore and Hooghly, 5 in Nadia, and 8 in Jessore.

18. Consumption.—The total consumption of country spirit in the Presidency amounted to 717,822 proof gallons against 823,063 proof gallons in the previous year—a decrease of 105,241 proof gallons.

Consumption increased in two areas. The first includes the district of Birbhum, the Asansol subdivision of Burdwan and the old outstill areas in Bankura and Midnapore. The second consists of the district of Jalpaiguri. Consumers in these areas do not appear to have suffered as seriously from the effects of the war as those in other parts of the Presidency, and, although consumption decreased to some extent in both tracts during the last eight months of the year, the decrease did not counterbalance the increase which had occurred before the outbreak of war.

The decrease exceeded 1,000 proof gallons in no fewer than 20 districts. It was largest in Calcutta (29,746 proof gallons), Dacca (10,389 proof gallons), Rangpur (9.585 proof gallons), Dinajpur (8,043 proof gallons), and the 24-Parganas (8,025 proof gallons). It exceeded 5,000 proof gallons in Rajshahi and Darjeeling, 4,000 proof gallons in Hooghly and Malda, and 3,000 proof gallons in Nadia and Bogra. The proportionate decreases were largest in Dacca (40·5 per cent.), Rangpur (37·8 per cent.), Dinajpur (36·8 per cent.), Bogra (33 per cent.), Jessore (32·7 per cent.), Rajshahi (30·4 per cent.), and Nadia (29·2 per cent.), whilst they exceeded 20 per cent. in Malda, Faridpur, Tippera and Noakhali. Whilst consumption in most of the districts mentioned above began to fall from the commencement of the year, it is noteworthy, as indicating the effects of the economic factor on consumption, that in Calcutta, Tippera, Rangpur, Bogra, Malda and Darjeeling consumption had actually increased up to July.

19. Total revenue from country spirit.—The total revenue—license and distillery fees and duty—from country spirit was Rs. 66,66,910 against Rs. 69,76,670 in 1913-14—a decrease of Rs. 3,09,760. The revenue derived from duty and distillery fees decreased by Rs. 3,08,943, notwithstanding the almost general increase in the rate of duty, and that from license-fees by Rs. 817. The decrease in duty was shared by all districts except Burdwan, Birbhum, Midnapore, Mymensingh, Bakarganj, Jalpaiguri and Pabna. The revenue from license-fees increased by Rs. 56,256 in the Presidency Division, Rs. 23,424 in the Burdwan Division, and Rs. 15,715 in the Chittagong Division, whilst in the Rajshahi and the Dacca Divisions there were decreases of Rs. 67,600 and Rs. 28,612, respectively.

20. Convictions for drunkenness and action taken against licensees for permitting it.— * * * * * In Calcutta 8,216 persons were convicted of drunkenness, against 8,616 in the previous year. Cases occurred in Birbhum, Bankura and Rangpur in which vendors were alleged to have permitted drunkenness on their licensed premises. In Birbhum a licensee and his salesman were prosecuted under section 51 (d) of the Excise Act, but were acquitted. In Bankura the vendors of two shops were fined Rs. 10 and Rs. 4 each. In Rangpur a vendor was proceeded against for this offence, and the case was compounded under section 65 of the Bengal Excise Act on payment of Rs. 10. All these three cases appear to have been far too leniently dealt with.

21. Distilleries and warehouses.—As in the previous year, there were two modern private distilleries in the Presidency, at Asansol and Konnagar, and one distillery in the Government premises at Russa. Two small warehouses at Kandi and Jangipur have been closed from the 1st April 1915. No change was made in the areas of supply. Molasses or mohua were the bases used in the manufacture of country spirit.

Supplies from distilleries to the various bonded warehouses throughout the Presidency were generally adequate. Stocks occasionally fell below the prescribed minimum, but there were no instances in which they fell so low as to cause difficulty in supplying retail vendors.

Tari.

23. Statistics.—The total number of licenses issued for the sale of fermented and fresh tari decreased from 1,884 to 1,744, or by 140, and the total receipts rose from Rs. 4,74,601 to Rs. 4,86,642, or by Rs. 12,041.

24. Fermented Tari.—The number of fermented tari licenses decreased from 830 to 762. A further reduction of 29 shops was made in the 24-Parganas, where shops are numerous. Thirteen more of the shops which had been opened in Murshidabad on the abolition of the system of season licenses were finally closed. Seven shops were abolished in Howrah, 4 each in Hooghly and Calcutta, and 3 each in Burdwan and Midnapore.

The bulk of the fermented tari revenue is derived from the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions and the district of Malda, which contributed Rs. 4,60,807 out of a total revenue under this head of Rs. 4,82,723. License-fees increased by Rs. 12,154 as compared with the previous year. The increase was most marked in the 24-Parganas (Rs. 4,969), Calcutta (Rs. 4,489), Malda (Rs. 3,404), Hooghly (Rs. 2,257), and Midnapore (Rs. 1,422), whilst there were decreases of Rs. 3,908 in Howrah and of Rs. 1,403 in Dinajpur.

* * * * * *

Pachwai.

26. Licenses.—The total number of licenses issued for retail sale, home-brewing and special manufacture was 25,301 as compared with 28,029 in 1913-14 :—

	1913-14.	1914-15.
Retail sale	1,484	1,508
Home-brewing	25,997	23,323
Special manufacture	548	470

The number of retail licenses increased in the 24-Parganas (33), Hooghly (1), Howrah (1), and Darjeeling (1). There was a decrease of 9 licenses in Birbhum and of 3 in Bankura. As explained in last year's report, the increase in the 24-Parganas is the natural consequence of the withdrawal of the privilege of home-brewing from the aboriginal settlers.

The number of home-brewing licenses increased by 227 in Darjeeling, 70 in Rajshahi, 50 in Mymensingh, and 10 in Tippera. There was a decrease of 2,008 licenses in Dinajpur, 651 in Malda, 126 in Dacca, 103 in Pabna, 95 in Rangpur, 43 in Bogra, and 5 in Jalpaiguri. The Collector of Dinajpur attributes the large decrease to the fact that many aborigines left the district on account of a partial failure of crops. The Collector of Malda reports that since the enhancement of the home-brewing fee to Re. 1-8, the Sonthal settlers have shown a strong disinclination to take out the licenses. The decrease in the number of licenses for home-brewing on special occasions was due to the fact that no licenses of this class were issued in Birbhum, as compared with 166 licenses in 1913-14. From the 1st April 1915 the issue of special home-brewing licenses has been restricted to the district of Darjeeling and the Duars portion of the district of Jalpaiguri.

27. Revenue.—The revenue from retail license-fees increased from Rs. 8,11,432 to Rs. 8,60,654, or by Rs. 49,222. The increase was considerable in Birbhum (Rs. 17,852), Burdwan (Rs. 17,116), and Bankura (Rs. 5,077). The revenue from home-brewing licenses decreased from Rs. 44,500 to Rs. 39,559.

SECTION III.—Foreign Liquor.

* * * * * * *

29. Licenses and revenue.—The total number of licenses issued for the wholesale and retail vend of potable foreign liquor, exclusive of licenses for the retail sale of medicated wines and rectified spirits, was 623 against 668 in the previous year. The chief decreases occurred under the heads of wholesale (7), bars at theatres and other places of amusement (16), "on and off" licenses (12), hotels (5), restaurants (3), "off" licenses (3), and permanent bar licenses (2), whilst the number of licenses issued to dâk bungalows increased by 3.

The number of licenses issued for the sale of medicated wines and rectified spirits increased by 15 and 9, respectively.

The total receipts from license-fees amounted to Rs. 3,99,968 as compared with Rs. 3,77,075 in 1913-14. The receipts from duty on Indian-made foreign liquor were Rs. 2,75,464 against Rs. 2,32,597 in the preceding year.

30. Imports and issues of foreign liquor from the Custom Houses, Calcutta and Chittagong.—The following statistics of imports are quoted from the report of the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, on the Maritime Trade of Bengal for the year 1914-15, and from a statement furnished by the Collector of Customs, Chittagong :—

	1913-14.		1914-15.

* Revised figures.

* * * * The Collector of Customs, Calcutta, explains the figures of imports into the port of Calcutta in 1914-15 as follows :—

"Ale, beer and porter.—Imports declined in quantity by 22·48 per cent. Consumption figures (820,503 gallons) were also smaller by 237.990 gallons. From the United Kingdom, although much has been done to popularize English light beers, landings were less by 15·67 per cent., Germany by 58·57 per cent., but Japan sent 33,388 gallons of a beer which appears to be appreciated : more also came from Denmark and Holland. The absence of a large portion of the British Regular Army from India and the shortage of light German beers account for the decrease.

Spirits.—Imports of brandy remained unchanged, of whisky were considerably less, 13·33 per cent. The consumption of brandy (61,583 gallons) was smaller as was the case with liqueurs and rum. The consumption of whisky (190,493 gallons) and gin showed a larger demand. Stocks of spirit at the close of the year had fallen from 98,532 to 74,095 gallons, of which 33·64 per cent. was whisky. These figures do not represent the real consumption, which was actually less, but heavy clearances made in anticipation of an enhancement of duty. Imports of white and rectified spirits fell from 54,602 to 25,862 gallons : this trade was practically confined to Germany. 230,453 gallons from Java were methylated at the Custom House.

Wines.—All wines except vermouth show a decreased consumption."

The Customs Department have kindly furnished the following statistics of imports and clearances of potable foreign spirits at the Calcutta Custom House. In last year's report an average strength of 70° O.P. was assumed in converting bulk gallons of silent and rectified spirits to proof gallons for the years 1912-13 and 1913-14. The figures now given represent the actual imports and clearances in those years in proof gallons :—

Years.	Imported (L. P. Gallons).			Issued on payment of duty (L. P. Gallons).
	Brandy, whisky, rum and gin.	White and rectified spirits.	Total.	Brandy, whisky, rum and gin.	White and rectified spirits.	Total.
*1912-13 ...	247,606	36,580	284,186	242,495	31,899	274,394
*1913-14 ...	275,008	54,602	329,610	267,990	50,887	318,877
1914-15 ...	246,726	25,862	272,588	278 918	34,046	312,964

* Revised figures for these two years.

31. Duty-free spirits.—The following quantities of rum and rectified spirits were issued duty-free during the year :—

	L. P. gallons.
Shahjehanpur rum	341
Madras rectified spirits	4,348
Asansol ditto	10,549
Konnagar rum	98
Ditto rectified spirits	175

* * * * * *

32. Issue of rectified spirit at the reduced rate of duty.—A total quantity of 8,651 L.P. gallons of rectified spirits manufactured at Asansol, Konnagar, Anwarganj (in the United Provinces) and in Madras was issued to wholesale chemists and druggists for the manufacture of medicines, chemicals or drugs, on payment of duty at the reduced rate of Rs. 7-13 per proof gallon, or used by Messrs. D. Waldie & Co. for the manufacture of these articles in bond.

* * * * * *

Locally manufactured Beer.

35. Statistics.—The number of breweries was 2 as in the previous year. Duty was charged upon 49,617 gallons as compared with 62,609 gallons in 1913-14. The outturn at the Victoria Brewery at Sonada fell off on account of the transfer of troops from the district. At the St. Mary's Seminary, Kurseong, beer is only manufactured for private consumption.

Receipts from license-fees and duty amounted to Rs. 9,468 against Rs. 11,904 in the previous year.

SECTION IV.—Hemp Drugs.

* * * * * *

Ganja.

40. Retail licenses.—The total number of licenses issued in the Presidency for the retail sale of ganja was 1,347 as compared with 1,403 in 1913-14. * * * * * *

41. Consumption of Ganja.—The total quantity of ganja consumed in the Presidency amounted to 2,584 maunds 16 seers against 2,960 maunds 10 seers in 1913-14—a decrease of 375 maunds 34 seers. The greater part of the decrease occurred in the Presidency and Dacca Divisions and in the plains districts of the Rajshahi Division, the 17 districts comprised in this area accounting for 346 maunds. The heaviest decrease, both proportionately and in actual quantity, was one of 33·3 per cent. (79¼ maunds) in Dacca. Other districts in which consumption decreased by more than 10 per cent. were Jessore (27·7 per cent. or 13 maunds), Faridpur (20 per cent. or 17 maunds), Bogra (18·8 per cent. or 13½ maunds), Nadia (18·2 per cent. or 11½ maunds), Rangpur (17·3 per cent. or 23¾ maunds), Midnapore (16·3 per cent. or 12¾ maunds), Jalpaiguri (16 per cent. or 10 maunds), Murshidabad (15·5 per cent. or 9 maunds), Khulna (15 per cent. or 7½ maunds), Mymensingh (14·9 per cent. or 61½ maunds), Rajshahi (14·3 per cent. or 14 maunds), Pabna (11·8 per cent. or 11¼ maunds), Calcutta (11·5 per cent. or 52¼ maunds), and Tippera (11·5 per cent. or 14¼ maunds). Consumption fell by 17 maunds 17 seers in the 24-Parganas, though this only represents a proportionate decrease of 6·5 per cent. Of these districts, Dacca and Jessore had shown a heavy, and Faridpur, Nadia, Midnapore and Khulna a considerable decrease even during the first four months. In Bogra, Rangpur, Jalpaiguri, Mymensingh, Pabna, Calcutta and Tippera, however, consumption had increased up to July. The three districts in which consumption increased during the year were Hooghly (5 maunds 3 seers), Chittagong (3 maunds 4 seers), and Darjeeling (26 seers). The increase in Hooghly merely represents a retransfer of custom from certain shops in the Barrackpur subdivision of the 24-Parganas to shops in the Serampore subdivision of Hooghly. The increase in Chittagong is attributed by the Collector to a reduction of prices as a result of competition. The small increase in Darjeeling is accounted for by an influx of labour for railway construction.

42. Total revenue.—The total receipts for the year amounted to Rs. 34,97,113 against Rs. 35,15,733 in the preceding year, the net decrease being Rs. 18,320. The revenue from license-fees increased by Rs. 1,55,711, whilst that from duty decreased by Rs. 1,74,031. The increase under license-fees was shared by every district except Midnapore, Howrah, the 24-Parganas, Bogra and Faridpur, but receipts from duty fell off in all districts except Hooghly, Calcutta, Darjeeling and Chittagong. The increase in Calcutta was solely due to increased exports.

43. Incidence of taxation.—The incidence of license-fees per seer of ganja consumed was Rs. 17·4 and that of duty Rs. 15. The total taxation was thus Rs. 32·4 per seer as compared with Rs. 28·9 per seer in the preceding year.

* * * * * *

46. Cultivation and outturn of Ganja at Naugaon in Rajshahi.—A fall in the wholesale price operated to reduce the number of applications to cultivate ganja: 3,695 applications were received for an area of 5,338 bighas, against 4,394 applications for an area of 6,471 bighas in the preceding year; 3,056 licenses covering an a ea of 2,947 bighas 3 cottahs and 3 chataks were granted, as compared with 2,896 licenses covering an area of 2,951 bighas 14 cottahs and 11 chataks in 1913-14. The area actually cultivated with ganja was 2,973 bighas 9 cottahs and 4 chataks, against 2,837 bighas 12 cottahs and 12 chataks in the preceding year.

* * * * * * * The outturn was extremely poor, and the total quantity of ganja produced only amounted to 6,867 maunds 39 seers and 12 chataks, as compared with 8,213 maunds 13 seers and 14 chataks from a smaller area in the preceding season.

47. Manufacture and storage.— * * * The cost of the cultivation and manufacture of the drug is reported to have been Rs. 30-10 per maund as in the preceding year.

48. Receipts, issues and balances at the public golas and the wholesale price at Naugaon.— * * * * *

The total exports from Naugaon during the year amounted to 7,614 maunds 2 seers and 7 chataks, against 8,212 maunds 37 seers and 6 chataks in the preceding year. The decrease was shared by all Provinces and States, except the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh and the Native States in Orissa.

* * * * * *

Bhang.

50. Licenses and revenue.—The number of retail licenses in the year under report was 228 against 233 in 1913-14. The number was very small except in the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions. The total number of druggists' permits issued was 166 as compared with 174 in the preceding year. The total revenue from both license-fees and duty amounted to Rs. 1,06,953 as compared with Rs. 1,07,468 in 1913-14.

51. Consumption.—The total consumption within the Presidency amounted to 671 maunds 25 seers against 714 maunds 13 seers in the previous year. There was a decrease of nearly 40 maunds in Calcutta, where the abnormal increase in 1911-12 has been followed by a steady decline. This decrease was again partially counterbalanced by an increase of 4 maunds in the 24-Parganas. Elsewhere fluctuations were inconsiderable.

Three maunds of duty-paid bhang were exported from Calcutta to French Chandernagore as compared with 4 maunds in the preceding year.

Charas.

52. Licenses and revenue.—The total number of retail licenses was 35 against 10 in the preceding year. * * * * * * There was a fall of Rs. 13,650 in the receipts from license-fees, whilst receipts from duty increased by Rs. 11,143. This transfer of revenue from license-fees to duty was the result of the enhancement of the rate of duty from Rs. 12 to Rs. 30 per seer from the 1st April 1914.

53. Imports and consumption.—The total quantity of charas imported was 19 maunds 30 seers against 27 maunds 13 seers in the previous year. The wholesale dealers of Calcutta, Birbhum and Malda imported the drug direct from Amritsar, Rawalpindi and Hoshiarpur in the Punjab and supplied retail vendors in the other districts.

The total issues to retail shops in Bengal amounted to 20 maunds 26 seers as compared with 25 maunds 25 seers in 1913-14. The only large fluctuation was a decrease of 2 maunds 18 seers in Calcutta.

SECTION V.—Opium.

* * * * * *

51. Restricted supply of Opium to licensed shops.—The system under which the issue of opium to retail shops is restricted to the estimated local demand continued in Hooghly, Howrah, the 24-Parganas, Calcutta, Bakarganj and Chittagong and in a few shops in Birbhum. Allowances were revised and reduced in Bakarganj and Chittagong, and the system was extended from the 1st April 1914 to the whole of the Midnapore and Khulna districts and to a few shops in Nadia and Jessore. It was found necessary during the course of the year to restrict issues to certain shops in Malda as considerable increases in the demand indicated that opium was being sold to smugglers. The special system of settling opium shops by lottery among persons previously approved by the Collector continued in Chittagong.

55. Licenses for retail sale.—The total number of licenses issued for the retail sale of opium was 859 against 886 in 1913-14. The decrease was due to the abolition of 1 shop in each of the districts of Murshidabad, Khulna, Bakarganj and Bogra, 2 each in Birbhum, Nadia, Rajshahi and Rangpur, and 16 in Midnapore. A new shop was opened in Darjeeling for the same reasons as those which necessitated the opening of a new ganja shop in that district.

56. Druggists' permits.—The number of druggists' permits fell from 417 to 374—a decrease of 43. A reduction of 30 was effected in Dinajpur, where the number of permits had previously been excessive. The number of licenses for the sale of poppy-heads was 6 against 13 in the previous year.

57. Consumption.—The total quantity of opium consumed within the Presidency was 1,554 maunds 11 seers as compared with 1,710 maunds 5 seers in the previous year—a decrease of 155 maunds 34 seers.

Consumption decreased in 25 districts and increased in 2. The increases occurred in Noakhali and Pabna and amounted to 8 and 7 seers, respectively. The decrease exceeded 10 per cent. in Chittagong (22·7 per cent. or 388 seers), Midnapore (20 per cent. or 1,605 seers), Nadia (19·5 per cent. or 352 seers), Jessore (19·4 per cent. or 203 seers), Rajshahi (13·4 per cent. or 113 seers), Dacca (12·5 per cent. or 191 seers), Khulna (11·4 per cent. or 243 seers), Bakarganj (11·2 per cent. or 182 seers), Rangpur (10·7 per cent. or 194 seers), and Malda (10·3 per cent. or 199 seers). The decrease also exceeded 100 seers in Burdwan (292 seers), Hooghly (222 seers), Howrah (201 seers), the 24-Parganas (556 seers), and Calcutta (888 seers), though the proportionate decreases in those districts were less than 10 per cent.

The restrictions in force would have effected a decrease in any case in Chittagong, Midnapore, Khulna and Bakarganj, and probably in Nadia, Jessore, Khulna and Malda, though the demand actually fell considerably short of the allowances, whilst Dacca and Rangpur are districts in which the decrease in the consumption of other forms of excisable articles was particularly large. There has been a rapid increase in retail prices in most districts in the course of the last three years. It is difficult to ascertain these prices with absolute accuracy, but the reported figures show that whereas prices in the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions averaged from Rs. 40 to Rs. 50 per seer in different districts in 1911-12, they now average from Rs. 50 to Rs. 75. Only two districts out of 12 report an average price of less than Rs. 55, whilst five districts report average prices of more than Rs. 70 per seer. In 1911-12 eleven of these districts reported average prices of Rs. 45 or less. In Dacca and Mymensingh the average prices have advanced from Rs. 50 to more than Rs. 70, and in Bakarganj from Rs. 60 to Rs. 95. The increase in the treasury price, which has not as a rule been accompanied by a corresponding decrease in license-fees, will probably cause a further advance in prices during the current year.

Three cases were detected during the year under report, in which opium was being smuggled from shops in the districts of Burdwan, Birbhum and Murshidabad. In a fourth case a former licensee of a shop in the Hooghly district was found in unlawful possession of 5 seers of opium.

58. Total receipts.—The total receipts amounted to Rs. 29,22,324 against Rs. 27,43,072, showing an increase of Rs. 1,79,252 or 6·5 per cent., whilst consumption decreased by 9·11 per cent. The increase in receipts was entirely due to higher license-fees, which were the result of the increased profits derived from higher retail prices.

59. Madak and Chandu.—The habit of opium-smoking was prevalent in some districts, notably in Burdwan, Birbhum, Midnapore, Hooghly, Calcutta, Murshidabad, Dacca, Mymensingh and Malda. There is no evidence that there was any spread of the habit during the year 1914-15, but the Collector of Midnapore, in the south-western part of which opium-smoking is very common, reports that the present rules, which fix the limit of individual possession at 1 tola and of joint possession at 5 tolas, have not proved sufficiently effective in checking it.

60. Morphia and Opium pills.—The use of morphia as a substitute for opium has been reported to exist to a limited extent in Hooghly. The use of opium pills has not been reported from any district.

* * * * * *

SECTION VI.—Cocaine.

63. Licenses and revenue.—Two hundred and twenty licenses were issued during the year to chemists, druggists, qualified medical practitioners and dentists for the sale of cocaine, as compared with 221 in 1913-14. The license-fees realised amounted to Rs. 220 against Rs. 225 in the preceding year. Thirty-nine licenses for the possession of cocaine were issued free to managers of hospitals or dispensaries not under Government supervision, viz., 29 licenses for tea gardens in the Jalpaiguri district, 5 for charitable dispensaries in Calcutta, 4 in Midnapore, and 1 in Murshidabad.

64. Preventive operations and illicit transactions.—The abuse of cocaine continues in Calcutta and the neighbouring parts of the 24-Parganas, in the Serampore and part of the Sadar subdivisions of the district of Hooghly, in the towns of Burdwan, Raniganj and Asansol in the district of Burdwan, and in Dacca city. The habit appears to have spread to the town of Tamluk in the Midnapore district, and three cases were detected in Nadia. Twenty-eight phials were discovered on the ferry steamer between Sara and Damukdia, but no clue was obtained as to its intended destination.

The hold which the cocaine habit has obtained in Calcutta is indicated by the number of cases. No fewer than 1,159 persons were convicted in the Calcutta district for the possession or sale of cocaine, notwithstanding the facts that during the latter part of the year there was a large decrease in the consumption of all classes of licit excisable articles, that some Magistrates awarded heavier sentences than had been possible before the Bengal Excise Amendment Act was brought into force, and that the war must have increased the difficulty of obtaining supplies. The large majority of the cases detected were cases of possession of small packets of cocaine either by consumers or by hawkers.

The total quantity of cocaine seized in Bengal was 62 lbs. 5 ozs. 3 drams 20½ grains (avoirdupois), as compared with 85 lbs. 10 ozs. 23 grains in the preceding year.

* * * * * *

SECTION VII.—Offences against the Excise and Opium laws.

* * * * * *

66. Arrests and convictions.—The total number of persons arrested during the year was 3,935 as compared with 3,622 in the previous year. Three thousand five hundred and eighty-nine persons were convicted against 3,325 in 1913-14. There was a marked increase in the number of arrests made in Calcutta (163), Midnapore (158), Burdwan (47), Hooghly (31), Jalpaiguri (26) and Chittagong (20). Considerable decreases occurred in the districts of the 24-Parganas (82), Bankura (63), and Howrah (22).

MEMORANDUM ON THE REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONER OF EXCISE AND SALT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE EXCISE DEPARTMENT IN BENGAL DURING THE YEAR 1914-15.

1. The two chief features of the year were, first, the introduction of the new scheme for the reorganization of the Excise Department, and, secondly, the great decrease in the consumption of excisable articles. The question of a revision of the arrangements for the administration of the excise laws has been under the consideration of this Government for many years. Various schemes were put forward from time to time, but until recently no suitable arrangement was devised which would place the Excise staff on a satisfactory basis. The sanction of the Secretary of State was finally obtained during the year to a scheme for reorganizing the Excise Department and amalgamating it with the Salt Department, and the scheme was partially introduced towards the close of the year 1914. The main features of this scheme are—(1) the formation of a close Excise and Salt Service for the Presidency, and the dissociation, as far possible, from excise work of officers entrusted with revenue and judicial functions; (2) the creation of two appointments of Deputy Commissioner on Rs. 850—50—1,000 per mensem to replace the existing Inspector of Excise and the Assistant Commissioner of Salt Revenue in charge of the districts of the 24-Parganas and Khulna; (3) the creation of a staff of 26 Excise Superintendents on pay ranging from Rs. 250 to Rs. 700 per mensem, with an additional Probationary Superintendent on Rs. 150 per mensem; (4) the improvement of the pay and grading and the strengthening of the numbers of the existing distillery, warehouse and preventive staff, so as to ensure greater efficiency in preventive work and in supervision over distilleries and warehouses; and (5) a similar revision of the staff of petty officers, peons and clerks, and the amalgamation of the district clerical excise establishments with the Collectors' establishments.

2. The decrease in the consumption of excisable articles was general. The consumption of country spirit diminished by 105,241 proof gallons, of ganja by 376 maunds, and of opium by 156 maunds. The Excise Commissioner has discussed these decreases in detail. They were due to two main causes—one administrative, the other economic. The administrative factor consisted in the measures taken by Government to check the growth of consumption by the increase in the rate of duty on country spirit in most districts, and in the maximum prices in Western Bengal, and by the curtailment of the hours during which shops may remain open. The effect of these measures was however comparatively slight and under normal conditions, consumption might have shown an inconsiderable decline. The outbreak of war was responsible, however, for a serious change in economic conditions particularly among the labouring classes, which greatly affected the excise trade. Not only was there a dearth of employment but the prices of food rose, and the margin for expenditure on luxuries was greatly reduced. The poorer labouring classes, who are the chief consumers of country spirit, were the greatest sufferers, and their condition is well reflected in the fall in consumption by about 30,000 gallons in Calcutta. Generally the conclusions that arise from a review of the circumstances of the year confirm the theory that preventive measures affect the consumption of excisable articles only to a limited extent, and that economic conditions are the more powerful factor.

3. Various measures were taken during the year to check excessive indulgence in intoxicants. The most important of these are—(1) the raising of the duty on ganja from Rs. 15 to Rs. 20 per seer, (2) the fixing of the treasury price of opium at Rs. 40 per seer throughout the Presidency, (3) restriction of the issues of opium to retail shops throughout the Midnapore and Khulna districts, and to certain shops in Nadia, Jessore and Malda, and (4) the complete separation in Calcutta of the vend of country spirit from that of foreign liquor. The "on" and "off" license for foreign liquor, which allowed the holder to sell for consumption either on or off the premises has also been abolished throughout the Presidency with effect from 1st April 1915.

4. The system of Advisory Committees continued in force throughout the Presidency, except in the Calcutta district, for which Licensing Boards have been appointed. The Advisory Committees worked satisfactorily. Their recommendations, which were confined to the number and location of shops, were generally practical and usually adopted. The Calcutta Licensing Boards were constituted in November 1913, and they have since that time dealt with the proposals for two excise settlements. Their functions have however been somewhat limited. On the first occasion, in the year 1913-14, they had not to deal with the contentious subject of licenses for the sale of country spirit, as such licenses had been settled for two years from the 1st April 1913. And when the proposals for the settlement of country spirit shops came up in the end of 1914, the Boards had not an entirely free hand. This was the result of the decision to separate the vend of country liquor from that of foreign liquor, and also the vend of foreign liquor for consumption on the premises from that of foreign liquor for consumption off the premises. This decision necessitated a revision of the previous arrangements as to the number and location of both classes of shops, involving a considerable reduction of the number of licenses of each kind. The Boards generally accepted the details of this revision which were worked out in the first instance by the Excise Department. The Governor in Council has noted with appreciation the keen interest which is displayed by the members of all the Boards, and the sense of responsibility they have displayed in carrying out the declared policy of Government. An important result that has been achieved is the close association between the Calcutta Temperance Federation and the Excise Department.

5. The total excise revenue for the year was Rs. 1,53,59,916, being a decrease of Rs. 28,101 on the figures of the previous year. The chief increase in receipts occurred under the head of "opium" (Rs. 1,79,252), followed by "foreign liquor" (Rs. 65,760), pachwai (Rs. 44,282) and tari (Rs. 12,011). This was counterbalanced by a large decrease (Rs. 3,09,760) from "country spirit," and a decrease of Rs. 18,320 from ganja. The causes of the increase and decrease have been discussed by the Excise Commissioner under each head, but the net result is that the incidence of excise revenue remained the same as in the previous year, namely, 5 annas and 5 pies. Of the total decrease of Rs. 3,09,760 in the revenue from country spirit that derived from duty, which represents the decrease in consumption, was Rs. 3,07,577, while the decrease from license fees was Rs. 817 only. The revenue from license fees under ganja increased by Rs. 1,55,711, whilst that from duty decreased by Rs. 1,74,031. The higher retail prices of ganja, which had followed the enhancement of the rate of duty from the 1st April 1913, were maintained by the enhancement in the license fees. The decreased consumption and the prospect of an enhancement in the duty led, however, to a great fall in license fees for the current year. The fall in the consumption of opium was accompanied by a large increase (Rs. 1,79,252) in revenue. This was entirely due to higher license fees, which were the result of the increased profits derived from higher retail prices in which there has been a rapid increase in most districts. The increase in the treasury price of opium with effect from the 1st April 1915, which has not as a rule been accompanied by a corresponding decrease in license fees, will probably cause a further advance in the retail price during the current year and a further fall in consumption.

6. Cocaine.—The abuse of cocaine still continues, and the illicit traffic in this drug in Calcutta still continues to give cause for anxiety. It might have been anticipated that this traffic would have diminished with the closure, owing to the war, of the chief sources of supply. But this is not borne out by the statistics of offences for the possession and sale of cocaine. More than one-third of the total number of arrests made in the Presidency during the year was in connection with cocaine offences, the number being 1,356 as compared with 1,175 in 1913-14. The arrests made in Calcutta alone for unlawful possession of cocaine were 1,219 as against 1,051 in the previous year. The amendment of the Excise Act by the Excise (Amendment) Act, 1914, has raised the maximum penalty for all offences, including those connected with cocaine, and it is hoped that the award of appropriate sentences will result in a diminution of this illicit traffic.

8. The excise policy of Government aims at discouraging the consumption of intoxicants, as far as possible, by the levy of as high a rate of duty as is possible, by reducing the number of retail shops for the sale of liquor and drugs, and by regulating and closely supervising the hours of sale and the selection of sites. The measures that have been taken in pursuance of this policy are very fully set forth in the report. Large reductions have been made in the number of shops, and the hours during which shops may remain open have been considerably curtailed. The rates of duty have been largely enhanced and with the aid of Licensing Boards and Advisory Committees particular attention has been paid to the selection of sites. With the improvements in, and the additions to, the excise staff which have followed on the reorganization of the department the Governor in Council has now little fear that these restrictive measures will lead to any increase in illicit practices. He looks forward indeed to a diminution of the illegal traffic in opium and cocaine and of illicit distillation and to a general improvement in excise administration as a result of this reform.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE BENGAL SMOKE NUISANCES COMMISSION FOR THE YEAR 1914-15.

No. 2816Marine.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Calcutta, the 4th October 1915.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The annual report of the Bengal Smoke Nuisances Commission for the year 1914-15.

THE Commission held 12 meetings during the year.

2. The Inspectors of the Department made 9,101 observations of smoke emission against 6,119 in the previous year. They inspected 5,682 factories against 4,269 in 1913-14, imparting instruction to the stokers and testing fuel and appliances.

3. The average emission of smoke of greatest density per hour was further reduced during the year from 1·74 to 1·66.

4. Experience has shown it to be necessary to amend the Act in order to deal suitably with the nuisance caused by ocean-going steamers prior to leaving moorings, by the chimneys of clubs and hotels, by lime-kilns constructed before the Act came into force, and by persons manufacturing coke in open fires. A Bill to amend the Smoke Nuisances Act is now before the Bengal Legislative Council.

5. Twenty-eight complaints were receiveg during the year which were adequately dealt with by the Commission.

Forty-one statutory warnings were served by the Commission with good results. Prosecutions were instituted in 38 cases, resulting in conviction in all except two cases of coke-making which had to be withdrawn as the offenders could not be found.

The owners of factories continue l to render valuable assistance to the Commission by taking suitable notice of offences on the part of their employés.

6. Certificates of competency issued to stokers, who passed the requisite examinations during the year, were 29 against 3 in the preceding year

7. There was a steady increase in the use of electricity and gas for power and heating purposes. One hundred and eighty-two electric motors were installed against 154 in the previous year.

8. The thanks of the Governor in Council are due to the members of the Commission for their efficient administration of the Bengal Smoke Nuisances Act and also to the owners of factories for their co-operation with the Commission in its efforts towards the prevention of the smoke-nuisance in Calcutta and its neighbourhood.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Government of India, Commerce and Industry Department, the President of the Smoke Nuisances Commission, the Commissioners of Presidency and Burdwan Divisions, the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, the Chairman, Calcutta Corporation, the Vice-Chairman, Port Commissioners, Calcutta, the Secretary, Bengal Chamber of Commerce, the Secretary, Calcutta Trades Association, the Honorary Secretary to the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce, the Vice-President of the City Improvement Trust, Calcutta, and the Municipal Department of this Government.

Ordered, also, that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Governor in Council.

F. A. A. COWLEY,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Preliminary Forecast of the Bhadoi Crops of Bengal, 1915-16.

[Note.—On the average of the five years ending 1913-14, the area under autumn rice in Bengal represents some 6·8 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India.]

Character of the Season.—The rainfall in February was in defect of the normal excepting in Northern Bengal; but in March it was generally in excess. In April it was again defective excepting in some of the Eastern Bengal districts. In May and June the rainfall in Western Bengal was about the normal with a tendency to defect; but in Eastern and Northern Bengal the fall was generally excessive resulting in high floods in some districts. The rainfall in July was everywhere defective excepting in the districts of the Chittagong Division. The sowings were generally commenced at the usual time; but the season was rather too dry in Western Bengal. In Eastern Bengal the weather was favourable at the time of sowing; but excessive rain and floods later interfered with the growth of the different crops to some extent. The season on the whole may be regarded as fair.

Acreage.—The total area sown this year with the different bhadoi crops is reported to be 6,224,600 acres against 5,980,700 acres of last year (now revised) and against 6,076,300 acres reported in the corresponding forecast of last year. Of this, the area under autumn rice is reported to be 5,286,800 acres this year against 4,990,200 acres last year and against 4,986,500 acres reported in the corresponding forecast of last year. The increase in area this year is due to corresponding decrease in jute cultivation.

Outturn.—According to the estimates of the District Officers, the outturn of the different bhadoi crops works out to 85 per cent. of the normal against 78 per cent. last year and against 79 per cent. reported in the corresponding forecast of last year and that of autumn rice to 86 per cent. against 79 per cent. last year.

The increase in area under different crops is due to the preference shown to the cultivation of these crops to that of jute. The weather was favourable at sowing time, but insufficient rainfall in July and August has affected the crops in Sadar and Barasat subdivisions. Hence the outturn is expected to fall below the normal.

The weather was favourable at the beginning but subsequently want of adequate rainfall from the middle of July to the first week of August retarded the growth of the crops and reduced the outturn. Some damage was caused by drought at the time when the crops were coming into ears in the Chuadanga subdivision.

The net resultant decrease in the total estimated area under all the bhadoi crops is due to want of timely rainfall in the Kandi subdivision. The decrease in the area under mulberry is due to revision based on the recent census made by the Superintendent of Sericulture, and that under fruits and vegetables was due to over-estimates in previous years and wrong classification of the crops. The weather has been favourable except in the Kandi subdivision where the damage caused by drought is about two annas.

Jessore	Bhadoi paddy (autumn rice).	407,300	324,400	361,800	91	91	April. Normal...	The increase in area under bhadoi paddy is due to conversion of jute-fields into paddy-fields owing to low prices of jute last year. The weather was favourable at the time of sowing, but later on the rainfall was insufficient. Slight damage was done to aus paddy by insect-pests in Jhenidah. The outturn is below the normal owing to insufficient rainfall in the flowering period.

The area under bhadoi paddy has been reduced owing to want of seasonable rainfall in places. Howrah ...	Bhadoi paddy (autumn rice.)	18,500	11,100	11,300	67	67	Middle of May. Normal.	The decrease in area under fruits and vegetables was due to want of sufficient rainfall at sowing time. Jalpaiguri	Bhadoi paddy (autumn rice).	196,000	166,600	193,200	73	98	First week of April.	The increase in area this year is due to low prices of jute. The weather conditions were favourable at sowing time, but since then the conditions have not been good in some parts of the district. In places the westerly wind and drought affected the development of the grain and paddy. Slight damage by flood is reported from Bhalka tahsil. Owing to defective rainfall and continued drought in the Chaklajat Estate, the outturn is likely to fall below the normal.

The increase in the area under bhadoi paddy is due to the fact that portions of the land where jute crops used to be grown have this year been sown with bhadoi paddy. The increase in area under bhadoi paddy is due to the fact that on account of the low prices of jute last year some jute lands have been sown with paddy this year. The area under mulberry this year is that reported by the Superintendent of Sericulture. The weather conditions have been good, but for the fact that about 500 acres of bhadoi paddy have been completely destroyed by the locusts. Owing to favourable weather the outturn is expected to be better this year.

The weather was good at sowing time, but heavy rain in June affected the growth of the crop. Owing to rise of the river Padma the crops on low lands were submerged and partially damaged in Goalundo subdivision. The outturn is 22 per cent. below the normal owing to untimely excessive rainfall.

The weather at sowing time was unfavourable, but has been subsequently favourable except in the Pirozpur subdivision. Some damage to the crop was done by insect-pests in Sadar and Patuakhali subdivisions. The outturn is likely to fall below the normal owing to damage by insect-pests and want of rain and flood in the Pirozpur, Patuakhali and Sadar subdivisions.

The decrease in area under bhadoi paddy is due to extension of winter rice cultivation in the Cox's Bazar subdivision. The weather at sowing time was favourable, but subsequently the rain in the end of August damaged the transplanted aus rice to some extent. The growth of the crop has been fair.

Tippera	Bhadoi paddy (autumn rice).	320,000	300,000	320,000	75	65	April. Normal	The increase in area is due to the fact that some lands which were under jute cultivation last year have been sown with paddy this year in the Chandpur subdivision. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Final Forecast of the Jute Crop for 1915.

(NOTE.—On the average of five years ending 1913-14 the area under jute to which the Bengal jute forecast relates has represented 87·1 per cent. of the total area under jute in British India.)

Character of the season.—It was explained in the note which was published in connection with the preliminary forecast, that at the beginning of the season weather conditions were on the whole favourable for sowings, except in parts of Northern and Eastern Bengal and in Midnapur. During April and the early part of May, the rainfall was somewhat scanty; but at the end of May and the earlier part of June the rainfall was in excess, especially in Eastern and Northern Bengal. In July the rainfall was on the whole normal and in August it was generally below normal, except in Eastern Bengal. But although the season has not been very unfavourable so far as the distribution of the rainfall is concerned, except in some parts of Eastern Bengal, the crop has been greatly damaged by flooding in certain districts. The district which has suffered most is Tippera. In the Brahmanbaria subdivision a considerable part of the crop was entirely destroyed and in the Chandpur subdivision a very large area was also wiped out. In the Dacca and Mymensingh districts the crop in low-lying areas had in many cases to be harvested prematurely to prevent it being destroyed by flooding. The average outturn has in consequence been lowered, especially in the Dacca district. In the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions good outturns have been returned in every case. Especially in the 24-Parganas, Khulna, Burdwan, Hooghly and Howrah.

The normal outturn of jute per acre.—The normal figures which were adopted for Northern, Eastern and Western Bengal in the 1913 and 1914 forecasts have been retained for the purpose of this year's forecast. An estimate of outturn was arrived at for each union by means of crop-cutting experiments and other inquiries and a percentage of outturn for the whole district was arrived at by adding up the figures obtained for the unions. The Director of Bihar and Orissa made a careful inquiry into the outturn of Purnea and has found it to be 3·3 bales per acre.

Acreage.—Checking of the acreage figures was continued during the months of July and August. Very few changes have been made in the figures of acreage for Northern and Eastern Bengal; but in the case of Western Bengal considerable increases have been made in the case of certain districts on the figures returned for the preliminary forecast. The crop is sown generally nearly six weeks later in Western than in Eastern Bengal, and in consequence the Panchayats of the former part of the province are not always in a position to give the correct figure for acreage before the preliminary forecast. The greatest increase is shown in the case of the Jessore district.

The final figures of acreage for the three provinces for this year and last year are now returned as follows :—

Province	Acres.		Decrease.
	1914.	1915
Bengal—
Western	467,199	325,858	141,341
Northern	855,511	601,614	253,897
Eastern	1,549,894	1,158,798	391,096
Cooch Behar	14,413	27,556	16,857
Bihar and Orissa	330,120	188,090	142,030
Assam	111,600	75,400	36,200
Total ...	3,358,737	2,377,316	981,421

The acreage of Western Bengal has therefore decreased by 30·3 per cent., of Northern Bengal by 29·7 per cent., of Eastern Bengal by 25·2 per cent., of Cooch Behar by 38 per cent., of Bihar and Orissa by 43 per cent. and of Assam by 32 per cent. These decreases are due principally to the low prices obtained last year after the outbreak of war. Since the time of sowing the area has, however, been further considerably diminished by flooding in low-lying tracts.

Outturn.—The final figures of outturn for the three provinces work out as follows :—

Province.	Bales.		Decrease.
	1914.	1915.
Bengal—
Western	1,337,698	1,051,399	286,299
Northern	2,734,433	1,975,539	758,894
Eastern	5,235,887	3,479,128	1,756,759
Cooch Behar	135,237	72,335	62,902
Bihar and Orissa (including Nepal) ...	780,787	692,873	87,914
Assam	307,463	157,459	150,004
Total ...	10,531,505	7,428,733	3,102,772

The outturn in Western Bengal has therefore decreased by 21·4 per cent., in Northern Bengal by 27·7 per cent., in Eastern Bengal by 33·5 per cent., in Cooch Behar by 46·5 per cent., in Bihar and Orissa by 12·7 per cent. and in Assam by 49 per cent. The crop in the deshi area is a good one, moderately good in Northern Bengal, but not very good in Eastern Bengal, especially in low lands, owing to the abnormal rise of the rivers at various times and excessive rain also in certain parts.

24-Parganas	87,751	64,791	103	100·3	389,297	224,154	August. Normal	Decrease in area is due to fall in the price of jute last year. The weather conditions were favourable.
Nadia	93,476	53,008	76	92	227,323	136,055	Middle of August. Normal ...	The increase in area as compared with the first forecast is due to revision after checking. The outturn will be better than last year. It is a little below the normal, due to slight damage done by insects in the Ranaghat and Chuadanga subdivisions. Owing to scanty rainfall difficulty is being experienced in steeping jute in the Sadar and Meherpur subdivisions.
Murshidabad	37,000	20,562	61½	96	72,520	63,157	First week of September. Early.	The character of the season has been normal on the whole. The satisfactory outturn is mainly due to the absence of insect pests.
Jessore	123,271	85,037	97	98	388,841	269,410	First week of August. Normal	The increase in area as compared with the figure furnished in the preliminary forecast is due to revision after careful checking. The outturn of the crop is satisfactory.
Khulna	32,037	20,586	96	103	97,392	67,874	Middle of August. Normal ...	The weather conditions were favourable throughout.
Burdwan	11,998	8,363	94	108	36,090	29,081	End of August. Early.
Midnapore	14,977	12,976	81½	99	39,060	41,146	Second week of August. Early.
Hooghly	43,875	39,531	96	114	134,784	144,260	Third week of August. Rather early.	The decrease in area as compared with that of last year is due to the dull market of jute last year. Increase over the preliminary forecast is due to careful checking. The crop this year is said to be a bumper one, the weather conditions having been very favourable.
Howrah	10,814	16,013	78½	110	32,451	56,792	Middle of August. Early.
Rajshahi	121,500	93,100	85½	91	364,500	199,500	Middle of July. Normal ...	The increase in the percentage outturn compared with that of last year is due to favourable weather conditions.
Dinajpur	92,000	66,500	90	89	289,800	206,200	End of July. Normal	The decrease in area is due to low prices of jute obtained last year.
Jalpaiguri	61,540	50,870	92½	86	200,005	152,784	Middle of August. Normal.
Darjeeling	5,471	2,351	100	90	12,148	7,405	Last week of July. Normal ...	Outturn is poorer than last year on account of excessive rainfall.
Rangpur	296,000	228,216	90½	103·3	937,580	817,816	Beginning of August. Normal	The decrease in area this year is due to the low prices realised last year. The weather conditions were throughout very favourable for low lands. The crop-cutting experiments carried out in different parts and the personal observations of the District Officer and the Superintendent of Agriculture, Rangpur, bear out the exceptionally good outturn of the crop this year.
Bogra	85,000	62,800	91½	89	272,000	197,780	Middle of July. Normal ...	There was some contraction in the area under jute due to last year's exceptionally low prices. The rainfall was in excess of the normal. The low-lying tracts suffered from the effects of the swollen state of the rivers and the heavy rainfall. Hence the outturn per acre is reported to be less than the normal.
Pabna	156,000	101,777	97½	88	530,400	314,054	First week of July. Normal	The growth of the plants was affected partly by excessive rain during the growing period, which impeded weeding operation, and partly by the early rise of the river.
Malda	40,000	25,000	91½	91	128,000	80,000	Middle of July. Normal	The weather was on the whole favourable.
Dacca	225,100	232,975	98	74·6	1,069,731	643,057	Beginning of July. Normal	The decrease in outturn is ascribed to excessive floods.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BIHAR AND ORISSA.

Final Forecast of the Jute Crop of Bihar and Orissa, 1915.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1913-14 the area under jute to which the Bihar and Orissa forecast relates represents about 9·8 per cent. of the total area under jute in British India.)

Acreage.—In Purnea, which is the most important jute-growing district in this Province, the system of obtaining an accurate return of the area under jute through the agency of the Panchayats which was introduced last year was continued. Four Special Officers, two of whom belong to this Department, were appointed as in last year to check the Panchayats' returns. The area in this district now arrived at by the above method comes to 158,830 acres against 281,220 acres of last year. The heavy decrease is due to the fall in the price of jute on account of the protracted war in Europe. The system of checking jute fields by the Panchayats was not tried in the remaining jute districts, which are of little importance, but the preliminary estimates were carefully checked by the inspecting staff of this Department, as in previous years. As a result the District Officers of Champaran, Muzaffarpur, Bhagalpur, the Santal Parganas and Balasore have revised their preliminary estimates. The final district returns of the seven districts now show an area under jute of 188,090 acres, or in round numbers 188,100 acres, as compared with 215,300 acres reported in the preliminary forecast.

The acreage under jute in this Province for each of the last five years in round numbers is noted below :—

Year.	Acreage.
1911	258,100
1912	298,300
1913	318,400
1914	330,100
1915	188,100

2. Weather conditions.—The weather conditions have been generally favourable. Some want of rain was, however, reported from Cuttack at the sowing time. In March the rainfall was normal in Purnea and above the normal in the remaining jute-growing districts. In April it was slightly below the normal everywhere. In May it was above the normal in Purnea, Bhagalpur, the Santal Parganas and Balasore and slightly below the normal in the remaining three districts. In June the rainfall was above the normal in Balasore and the Santal Parganas and below the normal in the remaining districts. In July the rainfall was above the average in Champaran and Muzaffarpur and a little below the normal in the remaining districts. In August it was above the normal in Purnea, Bhagalpur, Champaran and Muzaffarpur and slightly below the normal in the remaining three districts. Cessation of rain in the latter part of May is said to have affected the growth of the crop in parts of Balasore. Some damage was done by excessive rain and floods in Champaran.

3. Outturn. -A series of crop-tests were undertaken in Purnea, as in last year, with a view to obtaining accurate data regarding the actual outturn per acre. Some 84 experiments on this crop have been carried out in Purnea by the four officers deputed specially for the purpose under the supervision of the Assistant Director of Agriculture. Complete results have not yet been received, but those tabulated so far go to show that the crop in Purnea has this year been a bumper one. In consultation with the Collector of Purnea I estimate the crop of this district at 110 per cent. of the normal or 3·3 bales per acre. The results of the crop-tests conducted in other districts by District Officers are not yet available.

In the other jute districts, except Purnea, the percentage outturn has been reported by District Officers as under :—

	Per cent.
Cuttack	100
Santal Parganas	83
Bhagalpur	80
Champaran	92
Balasore	62
Muzaffarpur	100

Considering, however, that the weather this season has been distinctly favourable to the jute crop, I think that the outturn in Champaran, Bhagalpur and the Santal Parganas will not be less than 95 per cent. The estimate of 62 per cent. for Balasore is too pessimistic. In my opinion the crop in this district will not fall short of 80 per cent. of the normal. Taking three bales as the normal outturn per acre and working on the area and the percentage outturn as revised, the total gross outturn of the crop for the Province this year comes to 609,585 bales, or in round numbers 609,600 bales.

The average import of raw jute into this Province from Nepal during the last three years was equivalent to 83,288 bales. This figure, added to the figure for the Province arrived at, gives a total for Bihar and Orissa of 692,873 bales, or in round numbers 692,900 bales.

The further decrease in area under jute by 2,179 acres from what was reported in preliminary forecast is due to the fact that the present figure has been arrived at after checking the thana wise figures. This figure has also been adopted by the Agricultural Inspector, who made a special enquiry. Only 350 acres in Madhipura and nil at Sahsa were found under jute. The abnormal fall of acreage from last year is due to the low price offered on account of the war.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, ASSAM.

Final Forecast of the Jute Crop in Assam, 1915.

(NOTE.—On the average of the five years ending 1913-14, the area under jute in Assam represents some 3·1 per cent. of the total area under jute in British India.)

Character of the season.—As indicated in the preliminary forecast, the weather in the earlier part of the year was generally not favourable. The rainfall in July was excessive in most districts, including the two districts of Sylhet and Goalpara, which are the most important from the point of view of jute in this Province. Floods in these two districts and several others did considerable damage.

Area sown.—For the permanently-settled areas of Sylhet and Goalpara figures have again been compiled by Panchayats. It is believed that these figures are much more reliable than those which were returned before the new system came into force.

The total area under the crop as estimated by the Deputy Commissioners comes to 75,400 acres as against 111,600 acres shown in last year's final forecast and 83,100 acres shown in the preliminary forecast of this year. This represents a percentage of decrease of about 32 as compared with last year and of 9 as compared with the preliminary forecast.

All districts, except Sibsagar, Lakhimpur, Darrang and Cachar, show a decrease as against last year; figures for Cachar are merely conventional as the district is now under resettlement and crop statistics are not available; no figures have been received from Darrang. In Sylhet and Goalpara the area has been reduced from 16,300 acres to 10,700 and from 62,000 to 40,000 acres, respectively, the percentages of decrease being approximately 34 and 35; it is noticeable that the percentages in these two districts do not greatly differ.

The Deputy Commissioners of Sylhet, Goalpara and Nowgong have made some reductions in the figures returned by them for the preliminary forecast; the percentages of decrease are approximately 16, 12 and 14, respectively.

The two general causes which have operated in bringing about a reduction in area are the low price to which jute fell last year and bad weather. The floods which have occurred since the preliminary forecast was published are largely responsible for the reductions made subsequently.

Outturn.—The estimates of outturn reported by Deputy Commissioners are generally low. In view, however, of the generally unfavourable character of the season and of the considerable damage done by floods, especially in the Surma Valley, I am not prepared to say that they are too low.

The average outturn being taken at 3·3 bales per acre, which has been adopted as the normal for this Province, the outturn is 157,459 bales as compared with 307,463 last year; this means a reduction of about 49 per cent. It is to be noted, however, that last year's crop was the largest on record and was 35 per cent. in excess of that of the previous year.

W. A. EDWARDS,

Director of Land Records and Agriculture, Assam.

Cachar	400	300	300	90	50	891	495	August. Normal ...	The decrease in outturn as compared with that of last year is due to the damage done to the crop by floods.
Sylhet	16,000	16,300	10,700	73	48	39,366	16,949	Aug st. Normal ...	The fall in the price of jute in the previous year is partly responsible for the decrease in the area. The scanty rainfall in the beginning of the season, i.e., in April and the first half of May, materially retarded the sowing of the crops. It also affected its growth. Then followed two successive floods, causing great damage to the growing crop. The result is that both the area under jute and its outturn show a great decrease as compared with those of last year.
Goalpara	50,000	62,000	40,000	90	65	184,140	85,800	June. Early	The decrease in area as compared with that of last year is chiefly due to the price of jute being low on account of the present war. The weather was favourable to the crop; floods at the time of harvesting did much damage.
Kamrup	5,500	10,700	9,200	91	67	23,182	20,241	15th August. Normal	The decrease in area is due partly to the fall in the price of jute last year and partly to heavy rains in May, which retarded the sowing of the crop. Owing to unfavourable weather and heavy rain at the time of sowing, the outturn is below normal.
Darrang	1,000	9,300	7,500	75	75	23,017	18,863	.....	As no figures have been received from Darrang, the preliminary forecast figures have been taken for area and last year's percentage for outturn.
Nowgong	500	7,300	3,700	60	60	14,454	6,336	Beginning of August. Early.	The decrease in outturn is due to early rains and floods, which considerably damaged the crop and also retarded the weeding and the growth of it. Decrease in area is accounted for partly by the low prices which ruled last year and partly by the fact that excessive rain at the time of sowing interfered, to some extent, with cultivation.
Sibsagar	300	300	600	90	90	891	1,782	Middle of August. Normal.	The increase in area as compared with that of last year is due to extension of cultivation. The outturn is below normal on account of the weather being unfavourable to the growth of the crop.
Lakhimpur ...	900	300	500	100	98	660	1,364	1st September. Normal	The increase in area is due to extension of cultivation. The outturn is below normal on account of excessive rainfall after the sowing of the crop.
Garo Hills	4,000	5,200	3,400	70	50	19,012	5,610	August. Normal ...	Abnormal and excessive rainfall about a month after sowing seriously affected the growth and cultivation of the crop. Subsequent floods did considerable damage. The outturn is therefore estimated to be much below normal. Decrease in area is due to the fall last year in the price of jute, which resulted in autumn rice to some extent being cultivated in place of jute.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 4th October 1915.

Summary.—During the week under report light scattered showers fell in parts of West Bengal, but generally the fall was scanty elsewhere. More rain is urgently wanted for the growth of the winter rice crop, especially in the western districts. Transplanting of winter rice is finished. Harvesting of autumn crops is approaching completion. The preparation of lands for rabi crops is in progress. Sowing of pulses has commenced in some districts. The prospects of standing crops are generally reported to be fair. Fodder is scarce in certain low-lying tracts of Jessore, Pabna, Dacca, Mymensingh, Faridpur and Tippera. Cattle-disease exists in ten districts. Scarcity still prevails in parts of Bankura and Tippera. Gratuitous relief and agricultural loans continue to be issued in Tippera. The number of persons engaged daily on the District Board road works in Bankura rose to 3,645 from 2,327 in the preceding week. The average price of common rice for the province has fallen by about 3·3 per cent., as compared with that of the previous week.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA TERMINABLE LOAN.

NOTICE AS TO THE CONDITIONS ON WHICH THE PUBLIC MAY SUBSCRIBE THROUGH THE POST OFFICE.

THE Government are raising this year's loan in a new form carrying 4 per cent. interest. It will be repaid in full not later than November 1923, but Government can repay it, if they wish, any time after October 1920.

2. Rupees 4½ crores have already been raised in the usual way by the receipt of applications at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay and other large centres, and, so far, the loan is now closed. But in addition a special opportunity is being given to persons who wish to take up the loan in small amounts, whether they are savings bank depositors or not, of subscribing through the nearest post office which transacts savings bank business.

HOW TO SUBSCRIBE.

3. Applications through the post office can be made any time up to the 30th October.

4. Applications must be for even hundreds of rupees and for not less than Rs. 100 and not more, in the case of any one applicant, than Rs. 5,000.

NOTE.—An applicant may apply for the new loan up to Rs. 5,000, notwithstanding that he already holds 3½ per cent. Promissory notes previously purchased through the post office.

5 A person desiring to apply must fill up the form below, which can also be obtained at any post office which transacts savings bank business. He must at the same time pay the full amount for which he applies. For this purpose he can use the money in his savings bank account if he is a savings bank depositor, or he can pay in cash direct. The applicant may go to the post office himself or send a messenger. All amounts paid will be acknowledged.

6. For every Rs. 100 which the applicant pays he will receive Government Promissory notes for the same amount.

CUSTODY OF PROMISSORY NOTES.

7. The notes may either be kept by the applicant in his own custody, or, if he prefers, they may be retained in the custody of the post office authorities on his behalf. He should state which method he prefers in filling up the form of application. If he wishes to keep the notes himself, the post office will advise him when they are ready for delivery, and, on his presenting himself personally, they will be made over to him. If he decides to leave them with the post office, his personal attendance will not again be required, but the post office will send him an intimation in due course that they have been received and are held on his behalf. Should he at a later date desire to keep the notes himself they will then be made over to him.

PAYMENT OF INTEREST.

8. Interest at 4 per cent. a year will be paid half-yearly, i.e., 2 per cent. on the 31st May and 2 per cent. on the 30th November every year. For the broken period from the date of subscription to the 30th November next, interest will be paid in cash at the time the Promissory notes are delivered if the applicant keeps them himself, or will be credited into the savings bank account mentioned in the next paragraph if he leaves the notes in the custody of the post office authorities.

9. If the applicant decides to leave his Promissory notes in the custody of the post office authorities, the latter will draw the interest for him regularly each half year and credit the amount into a savings bank account which will be opened for this purpose in his name. The post office will also inform him from time to time whenever interest is thus received. No charge will be levied for this service, and no income-tax will be deducted in making the half-yearly payments of interest.

If he keeps the Promissory notes himself, income-tax will be deducted from interest in the usual way at the time the half-yearly payments are made.

SALE OF PROMISSORY NOTES.

10. If at any time a savings bank depositor who holds Promissory notes in this new loan, which have been purchased through the post office by the procedure here described, desires to sell them again, or any part of them, the post office will arrange this for him without charging brokerage or other fees. Full particulars as to this can be obtained from the post office at any time.

No. 467, dated Simla, the 15th September 1915.

NOTIFICATION—By the Government of India, Department of Education (Ecclesiastical).

THE Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct that the following shall be substituted for Rule 1 and paragraphs 2 and 3 of Rule 9, Part V of the Ecclesiastical Rules published with the Department of Education Notification No. 212, dated the 10th May 1913:—

Rule 1. All State charges for churches [except those referred to in Rule 21 (b) (2) which are debitable to "23-Ecclesiastical"] in Civil, military or State railway stations are provided from Public Works funds from the ordinary grant for Imperial Works under "45—Civil Works." The limits of expenditure prescribed in Rules 9, 10, 23-A and 24 following are exclusive of any charges on account of establishment and tools and plant and grants made under these rules may be increased by a percentage not greater than that which the total charges levied on account of establishment, tools and plant bear to the total outlay on works.

Rule 9. . . . . .

The maximum grant will be found by multiplying the estimated cubic contents of the approved design by a rate 15 per cent in excess of the local rate per cubic foot for ordinary first class single-storied buildings of substantial construction, such as court-houses. In the absence of a building of the class referred to, the cubic foot rate may be obtained from the nearest station where such a building exists in similar conditions, or the rate may be taken from an existing church in the same or the nearest station without the 15 per cent. excess, which is allowed when the rate has been derived from a building other than a church. It is to be clearly understood that the local rate is to be calculated with reference to the actual cost of construction of the building from which it is derived, that is, charges for establishment and tools and plant, if any were paid, should be excluded from the calculation. The cubic contents of a church will be arrived at by multiplying the plinth areas of the different parts, such as main rooms, verandahs, tower, etc., by the heights from plinth to roof level of these parts and then by adding them together. If a portion of the sitting accommodation has been provided for in a gallery the area of the gallery multiplied by half the height of the church from plinth level to the portion of the roof under which the gallery is situated should also be added. In the case of a sloping roof the height will be measured to the mean height of the slope.

BRITISH POSSESSIONS.

Caution when approaching British Ports.

No. 250 (second publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 700 of 1915), are republished :—

PART I.

CLOSING OF PORTS.

Former Notice.—No. 274 of 1915; (This Office No. 115 of 1915) hereby cancelled.

(1) My Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, having taken into consideration the fact that it may be necessary to forbid all entrance to certain ports of the Empire, this is to give Notice that on approaching the shores of the United Kingdom, or any of the ports or localities of the British Empire, referred to in Part III of this Notice, a sharp look-out should be kept for the signals described in the following paragraph, and for the vessels mentioned in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice, and the distinguishing and other signals made by them. In the event of such signals being displayed, the port or locality should be approached with great caution, as it may be apprehended that obstructions may exist.

(2) If entrance to a port is prohibited, three red vertical lights by night, or three red vertical balls by day, will be exhibited in some conspicuous position, in or near to its approach, which signals will also be shown by the vessels indicated in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice.

If these signals are displayed, vessels must either proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty charts and anchor there, or keep the sea.

(3) At all the ports or localities at home or abroad referred to in Part III of this Notice, search-lights are occasionally exhibited for exercise.

Instructions have been given to avoid directing moveable search-lights during practice on to vessels under way, but mariners are warned that great care should be taken to keep a sharp look-out for the signals indicated in paragraph (2) above, when search-lights are observed to be working.

PART II.

EXAMINATION SERVICE.

(4) In certain circumstances it is also necessary to take special measures to examine vessels desiring to enter the ports or localities at home or abroad, referred to in Part III, of this Notice.

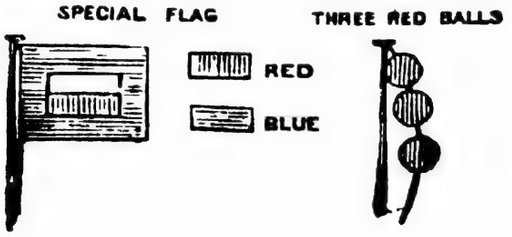
(5) In such case, vessels carrying the distinguishing flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7) will be charged with the duty of examining ships which desire to enter the ports and of allotting positions in which they shall anchor. If Government vessels, or vessels belonging to the local port authority, are found patrolling in the offing, merchant vessels are advised to communicate with such vessels with a view to obtaining information as to the course on which they should approach the Examination Anchorage. Such communication will not be necessary in cases where the pilot on board has already received this information from the local authorities.

(6) As the institution of the Examination Service at any port will never be publicly advertised, especial care should be taken in approaching the ports, by day or night, to keep a sharp look-out for any vessel carrying the flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7), and to be ready to "bring to" at once when hailed by her or warned by the firing of a gun or sound rocket.

In entering by night any of the ports mentioned in Part III, serious delay and risk will be avoided if four efficient all round lamps, two red and two white, are kept available for use.

(7) By day the distinguishing flags of the Examination Steamer will be a special flag (white and red horizontal surrounded by a blue border) and a blue ensign.

Also, three red vertical balls if the port is closed.



By night the steamer will carry :—

(a) Three red vertical lights if the port is closed.
(b) Three white vertical lights if the port is open.

The above lights will be carried in addition to the ordinary navigation lights, and will show an unbroken light around the horizon.

(8) Masters are warned that, when approaching a British port where the Examination Service is in force, they must have the distinguishing signal of their vessel ready to hoist immediately the Examination Steamer makes the signal.

(9) Masters are warned that, before attempting to enter any of these ports when the Examination Service is in force, they must in their own interests strictly obey all instructions given to them by the Examination Steamer. In the absence of any instructions from the Examination Steamer they must proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty charts and anchor there, or keep the sea.

Whilst at anchor in the Examination Anchorage, Masters are warned that they must not lower any boats (except to avoid accident), communicate with the shore, work cables, move the ship, or allow any one leave the ship, without permission from the Examination Steamer.

(10) In case of fog, Masters are enjoined to use the utmost care, and the Examination Anchorage itself should be approached with caution.

(11) Merchant vessels when approaching ports are especially cautioned against making use of private signals of any description, either by day or night: the use of them will render a vessel liable to be fired on.

(12) The pilots attached to the ports will be acquainted with the regulations to be followed.

SWEEPING OPERATIONS.

H. M. Vessels are constantly engaged in sweeping operations off ports in the United Kingdom.

Whilst so engaged, they work in pairs connected by a wire hawser and are consequently hampered to a very considerable extent in their manœuvring powers.

With a view to indicating the nature of the work on which these vessels are engaged, they will show the following signals:—

A black ball at the foremast head and a similar ball at the yardarm, or where it can best be seen, on that side on which it is dangerous for vessels to pass.

For the public safety, all other vessels, whether steamers or sailing craft, must keep out of the way of vessels flying this signal, and should especially remember that it is dangerous to pass between the vessels of a pair.

Note.

The Report on the Administration of the Police Department in Bengal for the year 1913, and the Resolution of Government thereon.

MR. R. B. HUGHES BULLER, C.I.E., held charge of the office of Inspector-General of Police from the 1st January to the 16th April and from the 9th

September to the close of the year. Mr. C. W. C. Plowden, C.I.E., Deputy Inspector-General, Crime and Railways, officiated as Inspector-General of Police during Mr. Hughes Buller's absence on leave. The two officers were on tour for 86 days, exclusive of the time spent by Mr. Plowden in an important enquiry in connection with the military police at Dacca.

2. There was no change in the numerical strength of the superior police cadre. In the subordinate ranks an increase of 882 officers and men was sanctioned in connection with the reorganization of the subordinate police in Eastern Bengal, the revision of police-station areas in the Asansol sub-division of the district of Burdwan, and the strengthening of the armed branch of the force. Mr. Hughes Buller has given some interesting figures which show the extent to which the police force in Bengal is under-manned in comparison with other provinces. The sanctioned strength of the force in Bengal provides 1 policeman for every 2,090 inhabitants, the United Provinces have 1 for 1,299, Madras 1 for 1,261, and Bombay 1 for 772.

3. The difficulties of the police force in Bengal are aggravated by the dearth of suitable local recruits, especially in the malarial districts, which necessitates the recruitment of men from Bihar, the United Provinces and the Punjab. The total number of men recruited during the year was 2,946 against 3,539 in the year 1913, while the number of vacancies at the close of the year was 1,400 as against 1,200 in the preceding year.

The figures of resignations show a slight decrease (668 against 684), but there were 317 desertions as compared with 153 in the previous year. It is hoped, however, that the improved rates of pay which were brought into force during the year will produce an improvement, and some Superintendents report that they have already had a good effect on resignations and on the general health of the men. The minimum pay of constables has now been raised from Rs. 8 a month to Rs. 10 in the unarmed branch and to Rs. 11 in the armed branch. Proposals for granting special leave concessions to recruits from other provinces are under consideration. The necessity of strengthening the leave reserve, in order that a reasonable amount of leave may be granted, is again urged by the Inspector-General, and his detailed proposals on the subject are awaited.

The two regiments of the Indian army lent to this Government for police duties in the Eastern Bengal districts continued to be so employed throughout the year and rendered invaluable assistance to the administration, for which the Governor in Council is deeply grateful to the military authorities.

4. His Excellency in Council is glad to notice the continuous improvement in the discipline of the police. There was an appreciable increase in the number of officers and men rewarded, and the revised rules regarding the grant of rewards by police officers, which have now been finally passed, will obviate the delay which has hitherto occurred in the payment of rewards owing to accounts difficulties. There were 102 cases of judicial punishments as compared with 74 in the previous year, but there was a satisfactory decrease in departmental punishments and in complaints brought against the police by private persons. Another satisfactory feature of the report is the steady improvement in the work of circle inspectors and the good influence exercised by them over the work of their subordinates. The detective ability of the investigating agency has not yet reached a high general level, but a scheme for special training in this matter has been drawn up by the Inspector-General and is under consideration. The excellent general training given in the college at Sarda and in the constables' training schools is already producing a good effect on the morale and intelligence of the force, and His Excellency in Council confidently anticipates an increasing development of the utility and efficiency of these institutions.

His Excellency in Council is fully alive to the importance of the questions raised by the Inspector-General of Police, in regard to the inadequacy of the existing Police Act of 1861, to meet modern requirements. It has been found impossible to proceed with legislation immediately, but the matter will be kept in view.

5. The expenditure in connection with the construction and repair of buildings during the year 1914 was nearly Rs. 18 lakhs as compared with Rs. 14½ lakhs during the previous year, but much remains to be done to make the police force in the mofussal reasonably comfortable and contented in this respect, and, as the Inspector-General says, only the fringe of the question has yet been touched. The condition of many of the police buildings is deplorable, and heavy expenditure will be necessary before the force is properly housed. The Inspector-General has submitted a comprehensive and carefully planned scheme, involving a total expenditure of nearly a crore and a half of rupees. In the existing financial stringency, it would be impossible for the Local Government or the Government of India to finance such a scheme, but the Governor in Council fully realises the importance of the question and is taking steps to advance it as far as possible, so that substantial progress may be made directly financial conditions improve. Meanwhile, the department will receive the fullest measure of assistance that it is possible to afford from ordinary provincial revenues.

6. The discipline of the military police force was excellent. The battalion at Dacca took part with the regular troops on all combined field days, and was highly complimented by Major-General May, C.B., C.M.G., Commanding the Presidency Brigade, on its excellent conduct and on the keen and soldier-like manner in which it acquitted itself. The battalion and its officers are to be congratulated on the commendation bestowed upon them by such a distinguished military authority. In accordance with the scheme for the reorganization of the military police in Bengal, which has been sanctioned by the Secretary of State, the old Bengal Military Police Company at Hooghly was to have been replaced by a detachment of the Dacca Military Police Battalion, but for administrative reasons the change could not be carried out before the close of the year.

7. A satisfactory improvement in the recruitment of local men for the river police was effected during the year. Six new river police-stations were established (including three reopened), and there are now 19 river police-stations in all. Twelve have floating thanas and the rest are accommodated in hired houses on land. Each thana has a pansi boat attached to it. Owing to the outbreak of the war, some delay occurred in obtaining new launches and boats from the Dockyard authorities, but the force now possesses a fleet of 11 steam launches, 3 motor launches and 27 pansi boats, besides various house-boats and cutters. Six launches have been made over to the military authorities for the use of the armies in the field. The Governor in Council is pleased to notice that the public have already begun to appreciate the protection afforded by the river police. It is reported that boats trading on the great rivers of Eastern Bengal invariably take shelter at night near the river police-stations. A scheme for extending the river police system to the waterways in Western Bengal is under consideration.

8. Including cases pending from 1913, 457 criminal charges were brought against the police as compared with 471 in the preceding year. The 424 charges disposed of during the year included 10 of torture, 99 of extortion, 25 of bribery, and 290 of assault and wrongful confinement, etc. Sixty cases ended in conviction, and 364 cases were unsubstantiated, as against 57 ending in conviction and 370 unsubstantiated in the preceding year. One Sub-Inspector was convicted of torture, 7 constables of extortion, 2 constables for bribery, and 3 Sub-Inspectors and 1 head-constable and 53 constables of other offences. The complainants were prosecuted for bringing false charges in 37 cases, of which 25 were disposed of before the end of the year. Twenty cases ended in conviction and five in acquittal.

Thirty-six civil suits were instituted against the police, of which 21 were disposed of during the year, with the result that 15 were dismissed, 3 withdrawn and 3 decreed. Revised rules were issued laying down the procedure to be followed in enquiring into cases of serious misconduct on the part of police officers. It has now been provided that in cases in which the Sessions Court or a Court of superior status records its opinion that a special enquiry is necessary into the conduct of the Police, an open enquiry will be publicly conducted by a commission of two officers, one of whom has had judicial experience and neither of whom belongs to the Police Department.

9. The appointment, in several districts and parts of districts, of circle officers to supervise the chaukidari administration has done much to improve the assessment of the chaukidari tax and to secure the more regular and punctual payment of the chaukidars. The development of the circle system on the wider lines proposed by the District Administration Committee is under the consideration of Government.

The scheme for the appointment of whole-time daffadars, tentatively introduced in the Madaripur subdivision of the Faridpur district, is reported to have been a success. The balances of the Chaukidari Reward Fund continue to be high in several districts, and the number of rewards granted shows no material increase. The Governor in Council agrees with the Inspector-General of Police that the detection of ordinary crime depends largely on information given by the village chaukidars, and that the grant of rewards is a great incentive to activity and zeal. He desires, therefore, to impress on all district and subdivisional officers the advantage of rewarding liberally and promptly all instances of meritorious work on the part of chaukidars.

10. The number of cases connected with revolutionary crime was 12, against 13 in the year 1913. These included six dacoities, one attempt at dacoity, four assassinations, and one attempt at assassination. All the dacoities took place in the Eastern Bengal districts except one which occurred in the 24-Parganas. Two of the men assassinated were police officers—Inspector Nripendra Nath Ghose of the Calcutta Police who was shot on the 19th January 1914, and a head-constable of the Intelligence Branch who was killed by a bomb on the 25th November 1914. An informer was shot at Dacca on the 19th July 1914, and another murder occurred at Chittagong on the 19th June, when an unfortunate man was shot by mistake whilst in company with the person whom it was intended to assassinate. On the 18th November 1914 an attempt was made at Madaripur in the district of Faridpur to kill a pleader who had assisted the police in certain enquiries. There can be no doubt that the activities of the revolutionary party were stimulated by the outbreak of the war, and an unusually large number of seditious leaflets were circulated during the year. An unfortunate incident occurred in Calcutta in August 1914, when a consignment of 50 Mauser pistols and 46,000 rounds of ammunition consigned to Messrs. Rodda & Company was stolen on the way from the docks. Nearly half the cartridges have been recovered, but the fact that Mauser cartridge cases have been found in nearly all the revolutionary dacoities and outrages that have occurred recently shows that the stolen weapons and ammunition have been widely distributed among the members of the revolutionary party.

Arrests were made in connection with three of the murders which occurred during the year, but the accused persons were eventually acquitted. The success of the police in dealing with anarchical crime must not, however, be judged by these results. After much patient investigation several arrests were made towards the close of the year, and important developments have occurred since both in Bengal and in other provinces. His Excellency in Council appreciates very highly the excellent work done by police officers, both Indian and European, in combating this form of crime.

11. In the matter of ordinary crime a decrease occurred during the year under the heads "Riot," "Theft," and "Cattle-theft" and an increase under the other heads. The increase was most marked under the heads of Murder and "Dacoity." Most of the murders were due to domestic quarrels, intrigues and jealousy, and no special significance can be attached to the increase in this form of crime. The increase in dacoities is, however, directly attributable to the general feeling of unrest and uncertainty caused by the war, which induced the more dangerous criminals to believe that Government would be preoccupied with other matters and that a good opportunity for organized crime was open to them. Before the outbreak of the war there were distinct signs that dacoities were decreasing, but in the last quarter of the year there were 113 cases as compared with 75 in the corresponding quarter of the previous year. The increase was most serious in Bakarganj, where dacoity cases had almost ceased in the earlier part of the year. The outburst of crime in this district towards the end of 1914 and in the early part of 1915 was so serious that the ordinary courts became congested with work, and it was found necessary to appoint a special commission under the Defence of India Act for the trial of dacoity cases.

After much hard preliminary work, systematic operations are now being undertaken under the Criminal Tribes Act, 1911, against gangs of organized criminals. Nine gangs were declared criminal tribes during the year, and cases against several others were investigated and have since been submitted to Government. The results of this important development of preventive work are only just becoming apparent, and the Governor in Council hopes that it will be possible to discuss them more fully in next year's report. An interesting feature in connection with this work is the settlement of the gang known as the Karwal Nats, under the supervision of the Salvation Army, on land which has been acquired in the neighbourhood of Saidpur.

12. Mr. Hughes Buller has offered in his report a sturdy and reasoned defence of the police against the charges of inefficiency and dishonesty which are often brought against them in a wholesale manner, and His Excellency in Council commends the report to the careful perusal of all candid critics, who wish to understand the difficulties of police work in this province. In all general criticisms of the police it is essential to remember the magnitude of the force, and the still greater magnitude of the work it is called upon to do. In this Presidency a body of 20,000 men is entrusted with the duty of protecting the lives and property of more than 40 million persons, living for the most part in scattered hamlets and homesteads spread over an area of 73,000 square miles. In existing circumstances about 1 person in 700 suffers from a crime against property during the year, and about 1 person in 7,000 from a crime against his person, serious enough to be dealt with by the police. Of the crimes investigated by the police and found to be true, rather less than half are detected, but the enormous difficulties with which the police have to contend in the way of unwieldy investigating centres, bad communications, the apathy, in many cases, of the population, and the consequent delay in reporting cases and starting investigations must not be overlooked. On the other hand, the results of the cases sent up for trial by the police are remarkably good, about 90 per cent. ending in conviction. It would be idle to pretend that the efficiency of the police is all that could be desired, but it is being steadily improved by careful training in modern detective and preventive methods and by the opening up of new investigating centres of manageable size; and, as the Inspector-General shows, the general results of police work in Bengal compare favourably with those of other provinces in India. As to the conduct of the police, some instances of misbehaviour are bound to occur in a force of 20,000 men, many of whom in the lower ranks are foreigners in this province. It has, however, been shown that the number of police against whom complaints are made bears an insignificant proportion to the total strength of the force, and the charges which are found true are in a still smaller proportion. The police in Bengal do not yet unfortunately enjoy the confidence of their fellow-countrymen to the same extent as in Western countries; such confidence is a plant whose growth must be slow and cannot be forced. The Governor in Council, however, has no doubt whatever that the superior officers of the police realise the necessity of obtaining the confidence of the public, if only in the interests of the efficiency of the force, and that they are doing all they can to enable the force to deserve it. Their efforts, continued in this spirit, must eventually be crowned with success.

13. For the improvement which has taken place in the police during recent years, much of the credit must be ascribed to Mr. Hughes Buller. He has worked indefatigably, during his five years' tenure of the post of Inspector-General, for the well-being and efficiency of every branch of the force, and though progress in some directions has been hampered by financial difficulties, he has laid the foundation of solid and well-conceived measures of reform to which effect will be given as rapidly as funds can be made available. His Excellency in Council has read with pleasure the long list of officers of all ranks who have earned the commendation of the Inspector-General.

ORDER.—Ordered that copies of the Resolution be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Police, the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, and all Commissioners of Divisions for information.

Ordered also that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Governor in Council,

J. H. KERR,
Offg. Chief Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

I Character of the season.—During the month under review the rainfall was defective throughout the Province except in the districts of the 24-Parganas, Bankura, Midnapore, Howrah, Jalpaiguri and Faridpur where the fall was in excess of the normal especially towards the end of the month. The usual rainfall statement is appanded.

II. Progress of agricultural operations.—Transplantation of winter rice was almost finished; and weeding was proceeding. Harvesting of autumn crops was going on, and steeping and washing of jute were in brisk progress.

III. State of the standing crops.—The state of standing crops was generally satisfactory except in parts of the Burdwan Division, where winter paddy was reported to be withering for want of adequate rainfall during the third week of the month. In the flooded tracts of the eastern districts the condition also was less favourable.

IV. Prospects and probable outturn.—The prospects of paddy and other standing crops were generally reported to be fairly good except in places of the western districts and the outturn is expected to be fair.

V. Damage to standing crops.—Some damage to the standing crops by flood was reported from places in Dacca, Mymensingh, Bakarganj, Faridpur and Jessore especially during the first week of the month. Owing to want of sufficient rain, the winter rice seedlings were reported to be withering in parts of the Burdwan Division.

VI. Condition of agricultural stocks.—The condition of agricultural stocks was reported to be fair. Cattle-disease was prevalent in parts of the 24-Parganas, Nadia, Murshidabad, Khulna, Burdwan, Birbhum, Bankura, Midnapore, Rajshahi, Darjeeling, Malda, Cooch Behar, Mymensingh, Chittagong and the Chittagong Hill Tracts.

VII. Failure of pasturage and fodder.—Fodder was reported to be scarce in certain lowlying parts of Jessore, Pabna, Dacca, Mymensingh, Faridpur and Tippera.

VIII. Prices of food-grains.—During the second fortnight of the month under review, the price of common rice rose in eight districts, fell in five and remained stationary in the rest. It varied from 5 seers 11 chittacks per rupee at Tippera to 8 seers at Jessore.

IX.—Condition of the agricultural people.—The condition of the agricultural population throughout the Province was fair except in Bankura and Tippera where some distress existed during the month. Gratuitous relief and agricultural loans continued to be issued in Tippera, and the District Board road works in Bankura continued to give employment to the labouring classes.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Second Forecast of the Cotton Crops of Bengal, 1915-16.

(Note.—On the average of the five years ending 1913-14, the area under the Cotton Crops in Bengal represents some 0·2 per cent. of the total area under Cotton in India.)

Character of the Season.—Early cotton is grown in the districts of Bankura, Midnapore, Mymensingh, the Chittagong Hill Tracts and in the State of Hill Tippera, and late cotton in the districts of Bankura and Midnapore only. Since the issue of the first forecast in August last, the weather conditions have been reported to be fairly favourable to the growth of the early crop in the districts of Bankura, Mymensingh and the Chittagong Hill Tracts. In Hill Tippera the condition of the crop is reported to be not very good owing to the damage caused by the excessive rain throughout the State. In Midnapore, where the condition of both varieties of the crop was reported to be unsatisfactory, the recent rainfall has improved the prospects to some extent. In Bankura the late crop has not been sown yet.

Area sown.—The area sown with early cotton is reported to be 85,698 acres, against the estimate of 89,460 acres reported in the corresponding forecast of last year and against the revised estimate of 89,477 acres of last year, owing to inclusion of 17 acres for Mymensingh this year.

Of the late crop 700 acres have been sown up to date, against 500 acres reported in the corresponding forecast of last year.

J. R. BLACKWOOD,
Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA TERMINABLE LOAN

NOTICE AS TO THE CONDITIONS ON WHICH THE PUBLIC MAY SUBSCRIBE THROUGH THE POST OFFICE.

THE Government are raising this year's loan in a new form carrying 4 per cent. interest. It will be repaid in full not later than November 1923, but Government can repay it, if they wish, any time after October 1920.

2. Rupees 4½ crores have already been raised in the usual way by the receipt of applications at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay and other large centres, and, so far, the loan is now closed. But in addition a special opportunity is being given to persons who wish to take up the loan in small amounts, whether they are savings bank depositors or not, of subscribing through the nearest post office which transacts savings bank business.

HOW TO SUBSCRIBE.

3. Applications through the post office can be made any time up to the 30th October.

4. Applications must be for even hundreds of rupees and for not less than Rs. 100 and not more, in the case of any one applicant, than Rs. 5,000.

NOTE.—An applicant may apply for the new loan up to Rs. 5,000, notwithstanding that he already holds 3½ per cent. Promissory notes previously purchased through the post office.

5 A person desiring to apply must fill up the form below, which can also be obtained at any post office which transacts savings bank business. He must at the same time pay the full amount for which he applies. For this purpose he can use the money in his savings bank account if he is a savings bank depositor, or he can pay in cash direct. The applicant may go to the post office himself or send a messenger. All amounts paid will be acknowledged.

6. For every Rs. 100 which the applicant pays he will receive Government Promissory notes for the same amount.

CUSTODY OF PROMISSORY NOTES.

7. The notes may either be kept by the applicant in his own custody, or, if he prefers, they may be retained in the custody of the post office authorities on his behalf. He should state which method he prefers in filling up the form of application. If he wishes to keep the notes himself, the post office will advise him when they are ready for delivery, and, on his presenting himself personally, they will be made over to him. If he decides to leave them with the post office, his personal attendance will not again be required, but the post office will send him an intimation in due course that they have been received and are held on his behalf. Should he at a later date desire to keep the notes himself they will then be made over to him.

PAYMENT OF INTEREST.

8. Interest at 4 per cent. a year will be paid half-yearly, i.e., 2 per cent. on the 31st May and 2 per cent. on the 30th November every year. For the broken period from the date of subscription to the 30th November next, interest will be paid in cash at the time the Promissory notes are delivered if the applicant keeps them himself, or will be credited into the savings bank account mentioned in the next paragraph if he leaves the notes in the custody of the post office authorities.

9. If the applicant decides to leave his Promissory notes in the custody of the post office authorities, the latter will draw the interest for him regularly each half year and credit the amount into a savings bank account which will be opened for this purpose in his name. The post office will also inform him from time to time whenever interest is thus received. No charge will be levied for this service, and no income-tax will be deducted in making the half-yearly payments of interest.

If he keeps the Promissory notes himself, income-tax will be deducted from interest in the usual way at the time the half-yearly payments are made.

SALE OF PROMISSORY NOTES.

10. If at any time a savings bank depositor who holds Promissory notes in this new loan, which have been purchased through the post office by the procedure here described, desires to sell them again, or any part of them, the post office will arrange this for him without charging brokerage or other fees. Full particulars as to this can be obtained from the post office at any time.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT, BENGAL.

DISTRICT ROAD FUND.

Notification, dated 10th October 1915.—The subjoined abstract of the annual report and accounts of the District Road Committee of the Darjeeling district for the year 1914-15, together with the remarks of the Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division thereon, is published for general information.

O. S. SMITH,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Copy of letter No. 485P.W., dated the 25th August 1915, from H. F. SAMMAN, ESQ., I.C.S., Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department.

I have the honour to forward herewith the report of the Administration of the District Road Committee, Darjeeling, with the Annual accounts for the year 1914-15. The receipts fell by about Rs. 1,000, but the expenditure rose by more than Rs. 33,000. Hence a genuine effort was made this year to utilize the Fund's resources. The expenditure on Civil Works rose by some Rs. 23,000; the increase being almost equally shared by Original Works and Repairs. Another heavy item of expenditure was the contribution to the Darjeeling Improvement Fund of Rs. 8,194 as their share of the net proceeds of the Public Works cess. This contribution to the Darjeeling Improvement Fund for water-supply and medical expenditure now exceeds the contribution (Rs. 7,119) received from the Darjeeling Improvement Fund for communications and cost of joint establishment. The closing balance is still heavy, but a substantial decrease has been effected, specially in the outstanding advances. The balance of the loans due to Government at the end of the year was rather less than the total closing balance.

The question of appointing a District Engineer for Darjeeling is now under consideration.

Abstract of the Report by the Chairman, District Road Committee of Darjeeling, on the operations of the District Road Fund of the district for the year 1914-15.

[Vide letter No. 98R.F., dated the 17th July 1915, from J. T. Rankin, Esq., I.C.S., Chairman of the District Road Committee Darjeeling, to the Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division.]

1. Working of Committees.—(a) District Committee.—There were 18 members of the Committee—6 official and 12 non-official. Eight meetings were held. The average attendance was 11·12, or 61·77 per cent.

(b) Kurseong Branch Committee.—The Committee consisted of 10 members—3 official and 7 non-official. Six meetings were held. The average attendance was 5·50, or 55·00 per cent.

(c) Terai Branch Committee.—The total number of the members of this Branch Committee was 16, of which 5 were official and 11 non-official. Eight meetings were held. The average attendance was 8·75, or 54·68 per cent.

2. The year opened with a cash balance of Rs. 35,187-5-4 and an outstanding advance of Rs 18,619-9-11. Altogether Rs. 54,106-15-3 was available for expenditure during the year. The total receipt and expenditure during the year (1914-15) were Rs. 1,23,351-13-5, including outstanding advance of the previous year, and Rs. 80 109-4-1, respectively, leaving a cash balance of Rs. 32,145-15-2 and an unadjusted advance of Rs. 11,096-10-2. The closing balance exceeded a quarter's kist. It was large owing to certain unforeseen events preventing the execution of some works which it had been proposed to carry out during the year. A portion of the balance, however, was actually spent, but no accounts were received and no adjustment could be made during the year 1914-15.

RECEIPTS.

3. Provincial rates.—The road-cess was levied during the year (1914-15) in the district at the rate of 6 pies in the rupee. The amount collected under the head "Cesses on lands" was Rs. 53,315-6-2 against Rs. 55,117-2-6 in the preceding year. The decrease is due to certain advance payments made in the previous year (1913-14).

4. Contributions.—(a) Grant from Government.—A sum of Rs. 8,515-11-10 was credited under this head during the year, including a grant of Rs. 5,823 for augmenting the resources of the Committee. Rupees 8,137-6-6 was the total grant of the preceding year (1913-14). The increase was mainly due to the increase of the grant for augmentation of resources.

(b) Rupees 7.119 was received from the Darjeeling Improvement Fund as its annual contribution for communications and its share of the cost of the cess and tauzi joint establishment.

(c) No contribution from private persons was received.

EXPENDITURE.

5. Original works.—Estimates of Rs. 4,334 and Rs. 8,981 were sanctioned for the construction of the Bone bridge on road No. 32 and the Singballi suspension bridge on a new site, but only Rs. 2,435-10-4 and Rs. 4,747-0-9, respectively, were spent on account of these bridges. The Muni bridge on road No. 41, Pankhabari bridge and the Rungmuk girder bridge were completed during the year at a cost of Rs. 651-14-6, Rs. 15 and Rs. 5,425-13, respectively. The total sum of Rs. 13,275-6-7 was spent under this head.

6. Repairs.—Rupees 37,160-13-4 as per details below were spent under this head against Rs. 26,556-14-8 in the preceding year. The increase is mainly due to the adjustment of the outstanding advances made in the previous years and certain extra grants sanctioned by the Committee for improvements of certain roads during 1914-15.

7. Nine miles of metalled roads, 346 miles of unmetalled district roads and 4 miles of village roads were repaired by the Committee during the year at a cost of Rs. 1,036, Rs. 46,291 and Rs. 110, the cost per mile being Rs. 448·8, Rs. 133·78 and Rs. 27·5, respectively. The expenditure includes Rs. 2,436 and Rs. 10,840 (total Rs. 13,276) on account of construction of new bridges.

8. Public Works establishment.—There was no District Engineer under this District Road Committee. All the works in the hills and most of those in the Terai were executed, as before, by the members of the District Road Committee and Branch Committees and the managers of tea gardens and private gentlemen. The thanks of the Committee are due to them for their valuable assistance. Important road-cess bridges were in charge of the Executive Engineer, Darjeeling Division, and repaired by the Public Works Department as usual, at the expense of the Committee. Rupees 1,103-5-4 including contingencies, or 1·97 per cent. of the total outlay on works under "head 45—Civil Works (Public Works)," was spent for the entertainment of an overseer and a peon under the Terai Branch Road Committee. The pay of the overseer was Rs. 60 plus a fixed horse allowance of Rs. 20, and that of the peon Rs. 7 per mensem.

9. Tools and plant.—A sum of Rs. 77 was spent for the improvement of road No. 6 (Tukda-Glenburn to Great Rungeet).

10. Iron railings.—Rupees 4,205-13-9 was spent for putting up iron railings on the road-cess roads in the hills, most of which are under the Kurseong Branch Road Committee.

11. Superannuation allowance and pension.—A gratuity of Rs. 57 was paid to a chaprasee of the District Road Committee, Darjeeling, who had served the Committee faithfully and satisfactorily for over 35 years.

12. Contribution.—A sum of Rs. 8.194 was paid to the Darjeeling Improvement Fund for water-supply and medical attendance.

13. Loans.—No fresh loan was taken during the year. Rupees 5,709-5 and Rs. 1,601-12-8 were paid as principal and interest, respectively, on loans granted in 1900 and 1901 by Government for the reconstruction and repairs of road-cess bridges destroyed and damaged by the cyclone of September 1899.

14. Administration.—There are two Branch Committees at Kurseong and Terai under the District Road Committee. Mr. J. T. Rankin, the Deputy Commissioner, was ex-officio Chairman of the District Road Committee and of the Terai Branch Road Committee throughout the year. Mr. F. G. E. Piffard, the Senior Deputy Collector, was the Vice-Chairman of the District Road Committee during the year. Mr. A. A. Patterson, the Subdivisional Officer of Kurseong, was Vice-Chairman of the Terai Branch Road Committee and Chairman of the Kurseong Branch Committee. Drs. J. Munday, A. D. Humphry and R. V. Dixon, successive civil medical officers of Kurseong, were the Vice-Chairmen of the Kurseong Branch Committee. The works of the District Committee as well as those of the Branch Committees were performed satisfactorily. Members of the District and Branch Road Committees took an active interest in the roads and bridges under their supervision. Acknowledgments are due to them and to the officers above named.

15. Audit of accounts.—The Examiner of Local Accounts, Bengal, has audited the accounts up to September 1914, and the members of the Audit Sub-Committee have audited them for the whole year of 1914-15.

BRITISH POSSESSIONS.

Caution when approaching British Ports.

No. 250 (third publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 700 of 1915), are republished :—

PART I.

CLOSING OF PORTS.

Former Notice.—No. 274 of 1915; (This Office No. 115 of 1915) hereby cancelled.

(1) My Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, having taken into consideration the fact that it may be necessary to forbid all entrance to certain ports of the Empire, this is to give Notice that on approaching the shores of the United Kingdom, or any of the ports or localities of the British Empire, referred to in Part III of this Notice, a sharp look-out should be kept for the signals described in the following paragraph, and for the vessels mentioned in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice, and the distinguishing and other signals made by them. In the event of such signals being displayed, the port or locality should be approached with great caution, as it may be apprehended that obstructions may exist.

(2) If entrance to a port is prohibited, three red vertical lights by night, or three red vertical balls by day, will be exhibited in some conspicuous position, in or near to its approach, which signals will also be shown by the vessels indicated in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice.

If these signals are displayed, vessels must either proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty charts and anchor there, or keep the sea.

(3) At all the ports or localities at home or abroad referred to in Part III of this Notice, search-lights are occasionally exhibited for exercise.

Instructions have been given to avoid directing moveable search-lights during practice on to vessels under way, but mariners are warned that great care should be taken to keep a sharp look-out for the signals indicated in paragraph (2) above, when search-lights are observed to be working.

PART II.

EXAMINATION SERVICE.

(4) In certain circumstances it is also necessary to take special measures to examine vessels desiring to enter the ports or localities at home or abroad, referred to in Part III, of this Notice.

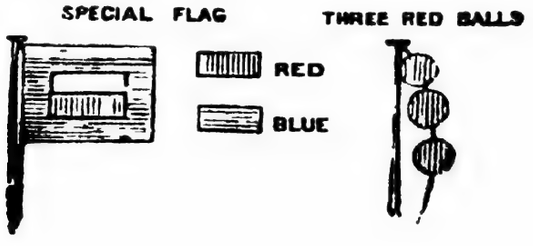
(5) In such case, vessels carrying the distinguishing flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7) will be charged with the duty of examining ships which desire to enter the ports and of allotting positions in which they shall anchor. If Government vessels, or vessels belonging to the local port authority, are found patrolling in the offing, merchant vessels are advised to communicate with such vessels with a view to obtaining information as to the course on which they should approach the Examination Anchorage. Such communication will not be necessary in cases where the pilot on board has already received this information from the local authorities.

(6) As the institution of the Examination Service at any port will never be publicly advertised, especial care should be taken in approaching the ports, by day or night, to keep a sharp look-out for any vessel carrying the flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7), and to be ready to "bring to" at once when hailed by her or warned by the firing of a gun or sound rocket.

In entering by night any of the ports mentioned in Part III, serious delay and risk will be avoided if four efficient all round lamps, two red and two white, are kept available for use.

(7) By day the distinguishing flags of the Examination Steamer will be a special flag (white and red horizontal surrounded by a blue border) and a blue ensign.

Also, three red vertical balls if the port is closed.



By night the steamer will carry :—

(a) Three red vertical lights if the port is closed.
(b) Three white vertical lights if the port is open.

The above lights will be carried in addition to the ordinary navigation lights, and will show an unbroken light around the horizon.

(8) Masters are warned that, when approaching a British port where the Examination Service is in force, they must have the distinguishing signal of their vessel ready to hoist immediately the Examination Steamer makes the signal.

(9) Masters are warned that, before attempting to enter any of these ports when the Examination Service is in force, they must in their own interests strictly obey all instructions given to them by the Examination Steamer. In the absence of any instructions from the Examination Steamer they must proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty charts and anchor there, or keep the sea.

Whilst at anchor in the Examination Anchorage, Masters are warned that they must not lower any boats (except to avoid accident), communicate with the shore, work cables, move the ship, or allow any one leave the ship, without permission from the Examination Steamer.

(10) In case of fog, Masters are enjoined to use the utmost care, and the Examination Anchorage itself should be approached with caution.

(11) Merchant vessels when approaching ports are especially cautioned against making use of private signals of any description, either by day or night: the use of them will render a vessel liable to be fired on.

(12) The pilots attached to the ports will be acquainted with the regulations to be followed.

SWEEPING OPERATIONS.

H. M. Vessels are constantly engaged in sweeping operations off ports in the United Kingdom.

Whilst so engaged, they work in pairs connected by a wire hawser and are consequently hampered to a very considerable extent in their manœuvring powers.

With a view to indicating the nature of the work on which these vessels are engaged, they will show the following signals:—

A black ball at the foremast head and a similar ball at the yardarm, or where it can best be seen, on that side on which it is dangerous for vessels to pass.

For the public safety, all other vessels, whether steamers or sailing craft, must keep out of the way of vessels flying this signal, and should especially remember that it is dangerous to pass between the vessels of a pair.

Note.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 18th October 1915.

Summary.—During the week under review heavy rain fell in the Chittagong division, but generally the fall was light to moderate elsewhere. The recent rainfall has been highly beneficial to the standing winter rice crop which is coming into its maturity. More rain is, however, wanted in the 24-Parganas, Burdwan and Malda. The preparation of lands for rabi crops continues and their sowings have commenced in places. The prospects of standing crops are generally reported to be satisfactory. Fodder is scarce in parts of Bogra, Mymensingh and Tippera. Cattle-disease prevails in seven districts. Scarcity still exists in parts of Bankura and Tippera. The number of persons employed daily on the District Board road works in Bankura amounted to 3,788. A sum of Rs. 19,855 was distributed as agricultural loans and Rs. 531 was issued as gratuitous relief in Tippera. The average price of common rice for the province has slightly risen as compared with that of the previous week.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA TERMINABLE LOAN.

NOTICE AS TO THE CONDITIONS ON WHICH THE PUBLIC MAY SUBSCRIBE THROUGH THE POST OFFICE.

THE Government are raising this year's loan in a new form carrying 4 per cent. interest. It will be repaid in full not later than November 1923, but Government can repay it if they wish, any time after October 1920.

2. Rupees 1½ crores have already been raised in the usual way by the receipt of applications at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay and other large centres, and, so far, the loan is now closed. But in addition a special opportunity is being given to persons who wish to take up the loan in small amounts, whether they are savings bank depositors or not, of subscribing through the nearest post office which transacts savings bank business.

HOW TO SUBSCRIBE.

3. Applications through the post office can be made any time up to the 30th October.

4. Applications must be for even hundreds of rupees and for not less than Rs. 100 and not more, in the case of any one applicant, than Rs. 5,000.

NOTE.—An applicant may apply for the new loan up to Rs. 5,000 notwithstanding that he already holds 3½ per cent Promissory notes previously purchased through the post office.

5. A person desiring to apply must fill up the form below, which can also be obtained at any post office which transacts savings bank business. He must at the same time pay the full amount for which he applies. For this purpose he can use the money in his savings bank account if he is a savings bank depositor, or he can pay in cash direct. The applicant may go to the post office himself or send a messenger All amounts paid will be acknowledged.

6. For every Rs. 100 which the applicant pays he will receive Government Promissory notes for the same amount.

CUSTODY OF PROMISSORY NOTES.

7. The notes may either be kept by the applicant in his own custody, or, if he prefers, they may be retained in the custody of the post office authorities on his behalf. He should state which method he prefers in filling up the form of application. If he wishes to keep the notes himself, the post office will advise him when they are ready for delivery. and, on his presenting himself personally, they will be made over to him. If he decides to leave them with the post office, his personal attendance will not again be required, but the post office will send him an intimation in due course that they have been received and are held on his behalf. Should he at a later date desire to keep the notes himself they will then be made over to him.

PAYMENT OF INTEREST.

8. Interest at 4 per cent. a year will be paid half-yearly, i.e., 2 per cent. on the 31st May and 2 per cent. on the 30th November every year. For the broken period from the date of subscription to the 30th November next, interest will be paid in cash at the time the Promissory notes are delivered if the applicant keeps them himself, or will be credited into the savings bank account mentioned in the next paragraph if he leaves the notes in the custody of the post office authorities.

9. If the applicant decides to leave his Promissory notes in the custody of the post office authorities, the latter will draw the interest for him regularly each half year and credit the amount into a savings bank account which will be opened for this purpose in his name. The post office will also inform him from time to time whenever interest is thus received. No charge will be levied for this service, and no income-tax will be deducted in making the half-yearly payments of interest.

If he keeps the Promissory notes himself, income-tax will be deducted from interest in the usual way at the time the half-yearly payments are made.

SALE OF PROMISSORY NOTES.

10. If at any time a savings bank depositor who holds Promissory notes in this new loan, which have been purchased through the post office by the procedure here described, desires to sell them again, or any part of them, the post office will arrange this for him without charging brokerage or other fees. Full particulars as to this can be obtained from the post office at any time.

Orders and Notifications by the Government of India.

The following notification, issued by the Government of India in the Foreign and Political Department, published in the Gazette of India, dated the 16th October 1915, is republished for general information.

J. H. KERR,
Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

Simla, the 13th October 1915.

No. 2391-I.-C.—The following Regulations respecting Foreign Orders and Medals which have been recently revised by Command of His Majesty the King-Emperor of India are published for general information. These Regulations supersede all those hitherto in force on the subject.

A

Regulations respecting Foreign Orders and Medals applicable to Persons in the Service of the Crown.

Orders.

1. It is the King's wish that no subject of His Majesty in the Service of the Crown shall accept and wear the Insignia of any Foreign Order without having previously obtained His Majesty's permission to do so, signified either :

(a) By Warrant under the Royal Sign-Manual, or
(b) By private permission conveyed through His Majesty's Private Secretary.

2. Permission given by Warrant under the Royal Sign-Manual will enable the Insignia of the Foreign Order to be worn at all times and without any restriction.

Private permission will only enable the Insignia to be worn on the occasions specified in the terms of the letter from the King's Private Secretary conveying the Royal sanction.

3. Full and unrestricted permission by Warrant under the Royal Sign-Manual is contemplated in the following cases :—

For a Decoration conferred—

On an Officer in His Majesty's Naval or Military Forces lent to a Foreign Government; on an Officer in His Majesty's Naval or Military Forces attached by his Government to a Foreign Navy or Army during hostilities; or on any British Official lent to a Foreign Government and not in receipt of any emoluments from British public funds during the period of such loan.

In the case of decorations awarded in recognition of services under the Red Cross, permission will only be granted where such services have been rendered in a war in which the Empire has itself been engaged, and by persons serving under one of the officially recognised British voluntary aid societies or under similar societies of Allied States duly recognised by the Governments of those States.

4. Private or restricted permission is contemplated for Decorations which have been conferred in recognition of personal attention to the Head of a Foreign State, and which are therefore of a more or less complimentary character, and will, as a rule, only be given on exceptional occasions when in the public interest and for political reasons it is deemed expedient that the acceptance of a Foreign Decoration should not be declined. Private permission will generally be given in the following cases :—

For a Decoration conferred—

(1) On British Ambassadors or Ministers abroad when the King pays a State visit to the country to which they are accredited;

(Note.—A State visit is defined as one on which the King is accompanied by a Minister or High Official in attendance.)

(2) On Members of Deputations of British Regiments to Foreign Heads of States;

(3) On Members of Special Missions when the King is represented at a Foreign Coronation, Wedding, or Funeral; or on any Diplomatic Representative when specially accredited to represent His Majesty on such occasions; and such Members of his Staff who actually attend the ceremonies in their official capacity;

(4) On Naval and Military Attachés only after completion of five years' service at the post to which they are appointed in that capacity.

5. Private or restricted permission will not be given to—

(1) British Ambassadors or Ministers abroad when leaving;

(2) Members of British Missions announcing the Accession of a Sovereign;

(3) British Officers attending Foreign Manœuvres;

(4) Naval Officers of British Squadrons visiting Foreign Waters.

6. The desire of the Head of a Foreign state to confer upon a British subject in the Service of the Crown the Insignia of an Order must be notified to His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs either through the British Diplomatic Representative accredited to the Head of the Foreign State, or through his Diplomatic Representative at the Court of St. James.

7. When His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs shall have taken the King's pleasure on any such application, and shall have obtained His Majesty's permission for the person in whose favour it has been made to wear the Insignia of a Foreign Order, he shall signify the same to His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, in order that he may cause a Warrant, if it be a case for the issue of a Warrant, as defined in Rule 2, to be prepared for the Royal Sign-Manual.

When such Warrant shall have been signed by the King, a notification thereof shall be inserted in the Gazette, stating the service for which the Foreign Order has been conferred.

Persons in whose favour such Warrants are issued will be required to pay to His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department a stamp duty of 10*s*.

8. The Warrant signifying His Majesty's permission may, at the request and at the expense of the person who has obtained it, be registered in the College of Arms. Every such Warrant as aforesaid shall contain a clause providing that His Majesty's licensee and permission does not authorise the assumption of any style, appellation, rank, precedence, or privilege appertaining to a Knight Bachelor of His Majesty's Realms.

9. When a British subject in the Service of the Crown has received the Royal permission, full or private, to accept and wear the Decoration of a Foreign Order, he will not be allowed to accept and wear the Decoration of a higher class of the same Order, without His Majesty's approval, which will only be given if the higher honour is being conferred in circumstances contemplated by these Regulations.

Medals.

10. Medals which constitute a particular class of a Foreign Order are subject in all respects to the Regulations in the same manner as higher grades of the Order, except that permission to wear will be given by Letter and not by Royal Warrant.

11. The King's unrestricted permission to accept and wear a Foreign Medal will only be given in the case of a Foreign Medal conferred by the Head or Government of a Foreign State for saving or attempting to save life at sea or on land.

In the case of medals for Red Cross services, permission will only be granted subject to the fulfilment of the conditions laid down in Rule 3 above.

12. The King's unrestricted permission to accept and wear a Foreign War Medal will only be given to (1) Officers of His Majesty's Military or Naval Forces if serving with a Foreign Army or Navy with His Majesty's licence, and (2) Military or Naval Attachés or other Officers officially attached to Foreign Armies or Navies during hostilities.

13. In exceptional cases, when for special reasons it is deemed expedient that the acceptance of the Medal should not be declined, His Majesty will grant restricted permission. Such cases will be judged on their merits, and the circumstances in which the Medal may be worn will be specified in the Letter conveying His Majesty's permission.

14. The term "person in the Service of the Crown" includes persons in receipt of a salary or pension from Public Funds, or holding a Royal Commission in any part of His Majesty's Dominions, Protectorates, or Possessions.

15. Ladies are subject to the Regulations in all respects in the same manner as men.

Foreign Office, July 12, 1915.

B

Regulations respecting Foreign Orders and Medals applicable to Persons NOT in the Service of the Crown.

Orders.

1. It is the King's wish that no subject of His Majesty shall wear the Insignia of any Foreign Order without having previously obtained His Majesty's permission to do so, signified either:

(a) By Warrant under the Royal Sign-Manual, or

(b) By private permission conveyed through His Majesty's Private Secretary.

2. Permission given by Warrant under the Royal Sign-Manual will enable the Insignia of the Foreign Order to be worn at all times and without any restriction.

Private permission will only enable the Insignia to be worn on the occasions specified in the terms of the letter from the King's Private Secretary conveying the Royal sanction.

3. The full and unrestricted permission by Warrant under the Royal Sign-Manual is designed to meet cases where the Decoration may be said to have been earned by some valuable service rendered to the Head of the State conferring it, or to the State itself. Application will be made to His Majesty for full permission by His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs on behalf of any person who, not being at the time in the Service of the Crown, is either in the salaried employment of a Foreign State or has rendered valuable services within the period of two years immediately preceding the notification of the Decoration to His Majesty's Government as prescribed under Rule 5.

The expression "valuable services" must be construed as meaning some service rendered to a Foreign Head of State or Government specifically, and must be indisputably valuable in the strict sense of the word. Though such services need not necessarily be gratuitous as in the case of a person actually in the employ of a Foreign Government, they must be unconnected with any transaction of a commercial or financial character brought about in the ordinary course of business. The term "valuable services" does not therefore, as a general rule, apply to services connected with the fulfilment of Government or Municipal contracts, the financing of Government or Municipal loans. It also does not include the presentation of objects of value to Public Museums and Institutions, pecuniary donations or endowments, personal performances, services in connection with Exhibitions and Industrial Congresses, services in the domain of art, literature, science, education, and agriculture, services rendered by British subjects in the capacity of honorary foreign Consular Officers.

Red Cross services will only be regarded as "valuable" for the purposes of these Regulations when they have been rendered in a war in which the Empire has itself been engaged, and by persons serving under one of the officially recognised British voluntary aid societies or under similar societies of Allied States duly recognised by the Governments of those States.

4. Private or restricted permission is contemplated for Decorations which have been conferred in recognition of personal attention to the Head of a Foreign State or Member of a Reigning House, and which are therefore of a more or less complimentary character. Private permission is as a rule only given on exceptional occasions, when in the public interest and for political reasons it is deemed expedient that the acceptance of a Foreign Decoration should not be declined.

5. Both in the case of full and in that of private permission the matter will be submitted to the King by His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs.

The desire of the Head of a Foreign State to confer upon a British subject the Insignia of an Order, or the fact that he has done so, must be notified to His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs either through the British Diplomatic Representative accredited to the Head of the Foreign State, or through the Diplomatic Representative of the latter at the Court of St. James. His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs shall be under no obligation to consider claims that are not brought to his notice through one of these channels.

6. When His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs shall have taken the King's pleasure on any such application, and shall have obtained His Majesty's permission for the person in whose favour it has been made to wear the Insignia of a Foreign Order, he shall signify the same to His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, in order that he may cause a Warrant, if it be a case for the issue of a Warrant as defined in Rule 2, to be prepared for the Royal Sign-Manual.

When such Warrant shall have been signed by the King, a notification thereof shall be inserted in the "Gazette", stating the service for which the Foreign Order has been conferred.

Persons in whose favour such Warrants are issued will be required to pay to His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department a stamp duty of 10*s*.

7. The Warrant signifying His Majesty's permission may, at the request and at the expense of the person who has obtained it, be registered in the College of Arms. Every such Warrant as aforesaid shall contain a clause providing that His Majesty's licence and permission does not authorise the assumption of any style, appellation, rank, precedence, or privilege appertaining to a Knight Bachelor of His Majesty's Realms.

8. When a British subject has received the Royal permission, full or private, to accept and wear the Decoration of a Foreign Order, he will not be allowed to accept the Decoration of a higher class of the same Order without His Majesty's approval. His Majesty will in such cases grant permission only if the promotion in the Order is conferred for fresh services which come within these Regulations.

9 These Regulations apply only to Orders of Chivalry. Decorations conferred by Private Societies and Decorations of a purely academic nature, and all Decorations not being Orders of Chivalry, may be accepted without His Majesty's permission, but must not be worn.

Exception is made in the case of a few Foreign Orders, which, though not in strictness Orders of Chivalry, yet are of such a high distinction that, for the purpose of these Regulations, they are to be considered and treated as Orders of Chivalry.

10. Ladies are subject to the Regulations in all respects in the same manner as men.

Medals.

11. Medals which constitute a particular class of a Foreign Order are subject in all respects to the Regulations in the same manner as higher grades of the Order, except that permission to wear will be given by Letter and not by Royal Warrant.

12. Medals for saving or attempting to save life at sea or on land conferred on behalf of the Head or Government of Foreign State may be accepted without His Majesty's special permission, and may be worn at Court.

In the case of Medals for Red Cross services, permission will only be granted subject to the fulfilment of the conditions laid down in Rule 3, paragraph 3, above.

13. Medals conferred by Private Societies, or Institutions and Commemorative Medals may be accepted without permission, but none of these Medals can be worn.

14. The King's permission must be obtained for any order Medal to be worn. No permission is needed to accept a Foreign Medal if it is not intended to be worn.

15. His Majesty will not grant permission to wear any Foreign War Medal if the person on whom it is to be or has been conferred was during the war acting in contravention of the Foreign Enlistment Act.

Foreign Office, July 12, 1915.

VALUABLE PROPERTIES FOR SALE.

Sale Proclamation.

TO be peremptorily sold, pursuant to the order of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, dated the 2nd day of September 1915, and made in execution of the order of the said Hon'ble Court, dated the 27th day of November 1911, in Suit No. 1121 of 1909 (wherein Sudhir Chandra Dey and another are the plaintiffs and Jeebun Krishna Dey and others are defendants), by P. Ray Chaudhuri, Esquire, the Receiver appointed by an order of the said Court, dated the 22nd day of July 1914, and made in Suit No. 399 of 1914 (wherein Krishna Chandra Dey is the plaintiff and Kunjo Behary Dey and others are defendants) at No. 10, Old Post Office Street, by public auction, on Saturday, the 13th day of November 1915, at 12 o'clock noon, the undermentioned properties belonging to the said Jeebun Krishna Dey and others, the defendants in the said Suit No. 1121 of 1909.

Lot No. 1.—Sixteen-anna share of the defendants in the premises No. 24, Beadon Street, being a one-storied brick-built dwelling-house and corrugated-shed, together with the piece or parcel of land containing, by estimation, 3 cottahs, more or less, situate at and comprised in holding No. 106, in block No. 23, in the Northern Division of the Town of Calcutta and butted and bounded on the north by Beadon Street, on the east by premises No. 24 1, Beadon Street, belonging to Nani Muddy, on the south by premises No. 25, Hurtokey Bagan Lane, belonging to Anadi Nath Banerjee, and on the west by premises No. 22, Beadon Street, belonging to Purno Chunder Mukherjee and paying an annual Government revenue of Re. 1-2-11 pies to the Collector of Calcutta.

Searches for encumbrances in respect of the said premises were made from 1865 to the 28th day of September 1915 and the same were found to be free from encumbrances during that period.

Lot No. 2.—Undivided ⅔ share of the defendants in the house and premises No. 30, Hurtokey Bagan Lane, being a partly one-and partly two-storied brick-built dwelling-house, together with the piece or parcel of land containing, by estimation, 8 cottahs, more or less, situated and comprised in holding No. 102, in block No. 23, in the Northern Division of the Town of Calcutta, and bounded on the north by premises No. 29 and 29-1, Hurtokey Bagan Lane, on the east by Hurtokey Bagan Lane, on the south by the house belonging to Chandra Mohan Sen, and on the west by Duff Street; and paying an annual revenue of Re. 1-6-6 to the Collector of Calcutta.

From searches made in the records of the Calcutta Registry Office in respect of the two-thirds share of the above premises from 1865 to the 30th day of September 1915, the following encumbrance was found to affect the said premises :—

One original Bengali Instrument of Mortgage, dated the 27th day of April 1914, executed by Krishna Chunder Dey for self and also for Hari Mohan Dey, Kunjo Behary Dey, Jeebun Krishna Dey and Sujan Krishna Dey, in favour of Lall Behary Roy, in respect of the said two-thirds share in the said premises to secure the repayment of Rs. 9,000 with interest thereon at the rate of 12 annas per cent. per month redeemable within three months from the date of mortgage.

A suit has been instituted by the said Lall Behary Roy in the said High Court, being Suit No. 1311 of 1914, Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction, for recovery of the said sum of Rs. 9,000 and Rs. 270 for interest calculated up to the 8th day of December 1914 against Krishna Chandra Dey Kunjo Behary Dey, Jeebun Krishna Dey and Sujan Krishna Dey, but the said Hari Mohan Dey, has not been made a party to the said suit. The said Jeebun Krishna Dey and Sujan Krishna Dey have caused appearances to be entered in the said Suit No. 1131 of 1914 and have filed their written statement in which they have denied all knowledge of the mortgage and their liability thereunder.

The suit is still pending or undetermined.

Lot No. 3.—Sixteen-anna share of the defendants in the premises No. 62, Manicktolla Street, being a partly one-storied and partly two-storied brick-built dwelling-house, together with the piece or parcel of land thereunto belonging containing, by estimation, 1 cottah and 3 chittacks, more or less, situate at and comprised in holding No. 80, in block No. 19, in the Northern Division of the Town of Calcutta, and bounded on the north by the tenanted house of Atul Krishna Nan, on the east by a common passage, on the south by the tenanted house of the late Babu Hira Lall Dey, and on the west by the shop of Nogendra Nath Dey and another, and paying an annual Government revenue of 3 annas and 8 pies to the Collector of Calcutta.

Searches for encumbrances were made in respect of the above premises from 1904 to the 23rd day of September 1915 when no encumbrance was found to affect the said premises during the said period.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 23.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

Simla, the 7th October, 1915.

No. 64.—The Governor General has been pleased, under Rule 23 of the Rules for the conduct of the Legislative Business of the Council of the Governor General, to order the publication in the Gazette of India and in the local official Gazettes in English, of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons relating thereto, and the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information.

BILL No. 17 OF 1915.

A Bill further to amend the Transfer of Property Act, 1882.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Transfer of Property Act, 1882; It is hereby enacted as follows:— IV of 1882.

1. This Act may be called the Transfer of Property (Amendment) Act, 1915. Short title.

2. In section 3 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882 (hereinafter called "the said Act") after the definition of the word "instrument" the following shall be inserted, namely:— Amendment of section 3 of Act IV of 1882.

"'attest', with its grammatical variations, when used with reference to any instrument means to sign such instrument as a witness in the presence of the executant thereof after having seen the executant sign the same or after having received from the executant a personal acknowledgment of his signature to the same." [Cf. s. 50 of Act X of 1865, s. 2 (2) of United Provinces Act III of 1910.]

3. Every mortgage deed or deed of gift which is required under the said Act to be attested by at least two witnesses and which has been attested before the commencement of this Act shall be deemed to have been sufficiently attested if two attesting witnesses signed the deed in the presence of the executant. Attestation of mortgage deeds and deeds of gift prior to commencement of this Act.

after having received from the executant a personal acknowledgment of his signature to the same

4. Where a claim under a mortgage deed or a deed of gift, attested by witnesses, has been wholly or in part dismissed, rejected, or withdrawn, after the 30th day of July 1912 and before the commencement of this Act, in a Court of first instance or of revision or of appeal, by reason only of the failure of a party to prove that an attesting witness signed the deed in the presence of the executant after having seen the executant sign the same, the case may, if the dismissal, rejection or withdrawal has had the effect of invalidating in whole or in part the said deed as between persons claiming and liable thereunder, be restored on review in the manner provided by the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, for review of judgments, on application in writing made within six months from the commencement of this Act; and on such restoration the provisions of section 3 shall apply to the said mortgage deed or deed gifft, as the case may be.

[Cf s. 31 (2) of Act IX of 1908.]

Restoration of claims dismissed, rejected, or withdrawn by reason of defect in attestation of mortgage deed or deed of gift.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Their Lordships of the Privy Council have held in Shama Patter v. Abdul Kadir (I.L.R. 35. Madras, p. 607) that the word "attested" used in section 59 of Act IV of 1882 (the Transfer of Property Act) means signed by a witness who saw the actual execution of the deed, and that the attestation of a mortgage deed on a mere acknowledgment of his signature by the executant is not sufficient. Until this decision was passed, there was a divergence of opinion among the Indian High Courts on the meaning to be attached to the word "attested" referred to above. The Calcutta High Court and the Madras High Court took the view which their Lordships of the Privy Council have now taken. The Bombay High Court had at one time held that the word "attested" included attestation upon acknowledgment, but in a subsequent case that Court also arrived at the same conclusion as the Calcutta and the Madras High Courts. The Allahabad High Court had on the contrary held that the word "attested" would include attestation upon a personal acknowledgment by the executant of his signature. The effect of the decision of their Lordships of the Privy Council is that money lenders seeking redress in Courts of law for the recovery of monies advanced on mortgage securities, often find themselves at the mercy of attesting witnesses, who, if they should be dishonestly inclined, will be able to utilise the occasion to exact payment from one party or the other. This will particularly be the case when most of the attesting witnesses are dead and only one or two are left alive. It is apprehended that many claims have already been dismissed on the authority of the decision above mentioned, and while redress has thus been denied to those rightfully entitled to recover their debts, dishonest debtors have found a new method available to them of avoiding payment, by trying to tamper with the evidence. In the United Provinces and the Punjab, in the case of mortgage deeds executed by Pardanashin ladies, who according to the custom of the country, do not appear, except before very near relations the hardship caused by the restricted interpretation of the word "attested" will be still greater. The word "attested" has been the subject of interpretation in several English cases. In Grayson v Atkinson—(2 Ves. Sen. 455 Sc.—28 English Reports, 291 at pages 292—293) (decided in 1752), Lord Hardwicke said :—"It is insisted, that the word attested superadded to subscribed imports, they shall be witnesses to the very act and factum of signing, and that the testator's acknowledging that act to have been done by him, and that it is his hand-writing, is not sufficient to enable them to attest ; that is, it must be an attestation of the thing itself, not of the acknowledgment. To be sure it must be an attestation of the thing in some sense; but the question upon this clause, as abstracted from the subsequent, is, if they attest on the acknowledgment of the testator that that is his hand-writing, whether that is not an attestation of the act, and whether not to be construed as agreeable to the rules of law and evidence as all other attestation and signing might be proved? At the time of making that act of parliament, and ever since, if a bond or deed is executed by the person, who signs it ; afterwards the witnesses are called in ; and before these witnesses he acknowledges that to be his hand ; that is always considered as an evidence of signing by the person executing, and is an attestation of it by them". A similar view was taken in Ellis vs Smith decided in 1754. These cases were followed in White vs. Trustees of the British Museum, (6 Bing, 319-Sc. 130 English Reports 1303), (decided in 1829). In that case Tindal C. J. said :—"It has been held in so many cases that it must now be taken to be settled law, that it is unnecessary for the testator actually to sign the will in the presence of the three witnesses who subscribe the same ; but that any acknowledgment before the witnesses that it is his signature, or any declaration before them that it is his will, is subscription of the witnesses complete. The case of Ellis vs. Smith, which was decided by Lord Chancellor Hardwicke assisted by the Master of the Rolls, Sir J. Strange, Lord Chief Justice Willis, and Lord Chief Baron Parker, all persons of high and eminent authority, is express to the latter point".

In some subsequent cases a different view was taken, viz., that "attested" meant that the witnesses should have been present as witnesses and should have seen the executant sign the document.

The Indian Legislature has used the word "attested" in several of its enactments. It has been evidently used in the larger sense in section 50 of the Indian Succession Act (X of 1865), and in section 2 (2) of the Oudh Estates Act (III of 1910). Dealing with the attestation of a will, paragraph 3 of section 50 lays down : "The will shall be attested by two or more witnesses, each of whom must have seen the testator sign or affix his mark to the will ....or have received from the testator a personal acknowledgment of his signature or mark."

The Allahabad High Court has expressed the opinion that it was reasonable to suppose that the interpretation put upon the word "attest" in section 50 of the Indian Succession Act should, in the absence of good, technical or substantial reason to the contrary, be taken to be the meaning in which the word is used in section 59 of the Transfer of Property Act, (I.L.R. 26, All. 69). Their Lordships of the Privy Council have on the contrary held that the Indian Legislature used the word "attested" in section 59 (of Act IV of 1882), in the sense in which it has been construed through a series of decisions in the English Courts, namely, that the person attesting should have been present as a witness and seen the executant sign the document which he attests. It has therefore become necessary in the interests of justice that the Indian Legislature should authoritatively lay down in what sense the word "attested" used in section 59 of the Transfer of Property Act is to be understood. Section 2 (2) of the Oudh Estates Act (III of 1910, of the United Provinces Council) contains a definition of the word 'attest' as follows :—

"'Attest' with its grammatical variations, when used with reference to any instrument other than a will, means to sign such instrument as a witness, in the presence of the executant after having seen the executant sign the same or after having received from the executant a personal acknowledgment of his signature to the same".

It seems desirable that a definition similar to the one quoted above, should be inserted in the Transfer of Property Act also. If this is done the hardship which is likely to result from the decision of their Lordships, in Shama Patter v. Abdul Kadir (I. L. R 35 Mad. 607) will be avoided. This is what the Bill proposes to do. It proposes to give retrospective effect to the amendment in order that miscarriages of justice should be obviated.

RESOLUTION—No. 1635T.R.

READ—

The Report of the Board of Revenue on the Land Revenue Administration of the Presidency of Bengal for the year 1914-15.

AFTER the readjustment of territories made in April 1912, the year ending the 30th June was adopted for the Land Revenue Administration

Report in accordance with the practice prevailing in Eastern Bengal and Assam. Subsequent experience has shown that this practice is inconvenient, and the financial year has again been adopted for the whole Presidency. The present report, accordingly, covers the year ending 31st March 1915.

The Hon'ble Mr. C. J. Stevenson-Moore, C.V.O., held charge of the office of Member of the Board of Revenue throughout the year.

2. General conditions of the year.—Until the end of July there were prospects of a prosperous year. The outbreak of the war accompanied by dislocation of trade and shortage of ships, caused an immediate fall in the price of jute at a time when a record crop was being harvested. The high prices obtained for jute in the previous year had raised expectations of similar prices in future, and as the raiyats of Bengal do not budget for a surplus, many had employed labour at high rates, who would have weeded their own fields if they had expected low prices. Consequently they were hard hit by the sudden fall in prices and many had difficulty in maintaining themselves until the harvest of the winter rice crop. Other classes suffered from the depressed condition of the cultivators: there was a reduced demand for labour; the professional classes, traders and artisans found less demand for their services, and landlords had difficulty in realising rent.

Insufficient rainfall in September and October adversely affected the outturn of winter rice in parts of Eastern Bengal and particularly in Bakarganj where this crop is of great importance.

Advances under the Agriculturists' Loans Act amounting to Rs. 1,64,385 were made in the districts which suffered much from these causes.

The war produced its effects on other trades besides the jute trade: the hide business greatly declined: in Bakarganj the trade in betel-nuts and cocoanuts which are exported to China and Burma suffered temporarily from the feeling of insecurity caused by the Emden: on the other hand, the high price of sugar gave a stimulus to the manufacture of molasses from date palm juice.

3. Land Revenue demands, collections, balances and remissions.—The current demand of land revenue was Rs. 2,73,67,531, the increase of nearly 2 lakhs over the previous year being due to new settlements and re-settlements in temporarily-settled and Government estates. The collections amounted to Rs. 2,67,52,727 or 97·75 per cent. of the current demand and 93·04 per cent. of the total demand. The low price of jute and the partial failure of the winter rice crop caused a falling off in the collections in estates under direct management.

4. Road and Public Works Cesses.—There was an increase of Rs. 1,89,607 in the current cess demand, due to revaluations and the annual revision of the assessment of mines under section 72 of the Cess Act. The percentage of total collections on the current demand fell from 100·2 to 96·9 and only three districts against 13 in the previous year attained the prescribed standard.

During the year valuations or revaluations, partial or complete, were made in 18 out of the 25 districts to which the Act applies, and were completed in 8. The work was carried out by the Settlement Department in Dacca, Faridpur, Rajshahi and Jalpaiguri. In four thanas of the district of Midnapore the operations were conducted by the Settlement Department in accordance with the new procedure introduced by Act IV of 1910. This is the first district in Bengal in which the procedure has been tried. It has been found defective and the question of its modification is now under the consideration of Government.

5. Revenue money-orders.—There was a fall in the number of revenue and cess money-orders issued during the year, the total amount covered by them coming down to a little over 18 lakhs, a decrease of nearly 4 lakhs as compared with the preceding year. It is hoped that more advantage will be taken of the system now that a combined form of money-order for the remittance of both land revenue and cesses has been introduced for the convenience of revenue payers.

6. Coercive measures.—The number of estates which defaulted in the payment of land revenue and became liable to sale was 13,713 or over 1,200 in excess of that of the preceding year but only 861 sales actually took place. The number of certificates filed, including those on cess accounts, was 1,00,229 as against 97,724 in the previous year. There was an increase in the number of revenue certificates which was distributed over many districts and due to various local causes, but the cess certificates showed a decrease which was most marked in the districts of Hooghly and Chittagong. The number of pending cases is very high in some districts. Payments were made on the issue of notices or on attachment of property in the majority of cases and actual sale was resorted to in only 2,769 cases or 2·7 per cent. of the 101,635 cases disposed of during the year.

7. Condition of the raiyats in Government estates and expenditure on improvements and education.—The year was not a favourable one for the tenants as they suffered equally with those in private estates from the fall in the price of jute and the stoppage of credit caused by the war as well as from the partial failure of the rice crop. There were 2,173 estates under direct management with a current demand of Rs. 41,57,772 The expenditure on miscellaneous and sanitary improvements amounted to Rs 1,57,256, of which Rs. 73,658 was spent on drainage, irrigation and embankments. A sum of Rs. 64,515 was expended on education, there being 2,214 schools with 73,327 pupils in the Government estates of the Presidency. The expenditure on roads and communications in Government estates was Rs. 2,16,630, of which Rs. 70,500 was paid out of the Government 1½ per cent. grant, the balance being met from local funds.

8. Waste lands.—The rules for the grant of leases of waste lands in the 24-Parganas and Khulna portions of the Sundarbans are still in abeyance, the Public Works Department having brought to notice that reclamation by embankments was seriously detrimental to the area. The Hon'ble Mr. Stevenson-Moore visited the tract and made certain suggestions for its development. His proposals which included raiyatwari settlement in certain areas are now under consideration. Satisfactory progress has been made in the work of colonization in the Bakarganj Sundarbans. There were 535 new colonists settled on 31,560 bighas of land against 239 colonists on 12,340 bighas in the previous year.

9. Drainage, irrigation and embankments.—No new drainage, irrigation or embankment project was carried out. Schemes for improving the drainage of the Contai subdivision of the district of Midnapore and the Amta basin in the district of Howrah are under consideration. Under the advice of the Irrigation Department proceedings were initiated under the Embankment Act in regard to the private embankments in Birbhum. Measures are being taken for lessening the damage by floods in the districts of Burdwan, Hooghly, Howrah and Midnapore. The proposal for raising the low portions of the embankments on the right bank of the Ajai river has been approved by Government. A scheme for the complete survey of the embankment system in the Kandi subdivision of Murshidabad district is under the consideration of the Public Works Department.

10. Partitions.—Fifty-three cases were instituted during the year and 265 were pending at the end of the previous year. Only 43 cases were disposed of, leaving 275 pending at the close of the year.

11. Working of the Bengal Tenancy Act.—The Bengal Tenancy Act continued to work smoothly. The levy of abwabs or illegal cesses and the failure to grant proper rent-receipts have not, however, ceased.

The number of rent money-orders issued and the amount covered by them showed a decrease: this is probably due to less aggregate payments of rent having been made than in the previous year. The percentage of money-orders refused by landlords came down to 18·5 from 20·3 in the previous year. It is hoped that the revised form of rent money-order which has been introduced will effect a further reduction in the number of refusals.

The draft Bill to amend the law relating to the transfer of occupancy holdings on which the opinion of the public has been obtained is under the consideration of Government.

12. The thanks of Government are due to the Board for its efficient administration of the Land Revenue Department.

By order of the Governor in Council,

L. BIRLEY,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.
